FORMER ACTION ON TARIFF REVERSED

Live Stock, Wheat and Oats Will Go on the Free List.

QUESTIONS OF VALUATION

Senator Simmons Confers With the President—Committe in Charge of Agricultural Schedule Takes Action.

Washington, June 3.—Reversing its former action in voting to place wheat flour, oat meal and fresh meats on the dutiable list the Senate Finance committee in charge of the agricultural schedule voted today to place live stock, wheat and oats on the free list.

This action, it was authoritatively stated, was taken to meet the views of President Wilson, Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance committee, and other administration leaders who disapproved the decision announced yesterday to tax meats 10 per cent. compensatory to a duty on cattle in the Underwood bill, and to assess a compensatory duty on both flour and oat meatl. The vote to reconsider was taken in the sub-committee on a motion made by Senator Simmons, ex-officio member of all the subcommittees handling the various tariff schedules, when he returned to the Capitol from a conference with the President.

In this enlargement of the free list President Wilson is known to have taken a leading part, as he did in the matter of raw wool and sugar. As he still is standing uncompromisingly for the wool and sugar schedules so it is declared he will stand firmly for free cattle, sheep and hogs and free wheat and oats now that this has been determined upon as the party policy.

Senator Simmons conferred with the President last week about his views on the method of equalizing the Underwood bill with regard to raw materials and their products.

When the sub-committees' tentative action was announced this morning, the Senator went immediately to the White House.

"I told the President," he said later, "that members of the Finance committee in formal conference had agreed that there should not be a tax on wheat and flour. It was true that the sub-committee had taken different action, but I informed the President that the majority of the Finance committee felt, and said we would vote, instead to place cattle and other live stock and wheat and oats on the free list. This President Wilson agreed to and said he would be all right."

After leaving the White House, Senator Simmons called on Senator Williams, chairman of the sub-committee, and told him of the sentiment for free cattle and free wheat. Then the subcommittee was called together and its former action reversed.

"The matter is settled now," said Senator Simmons, "and that is the way the schedule will go to the Senate."

Inquisitorial Clause Troublesome.

The inquisitorial clause of the Underwood bill which aroused foreign protest, has been giving the Williams sub-committee considerable trouble and in trying to work out a modification of its provisions they have had the aid of Secretary McAdoo, Secretary Bryan and John Bassett Moore, counsellor of the State Department.

A plan now is being discussed to combine a portion of this provision with the amendment proposed giving the Secretary of the Treasury the right to proclaim values, thus to have a safeguard against undervaluations and at the same time rid the provision of its features objectionable to foreign powers.

The main purposes of the inquisitorial clause was to prevent undervaluations, a necessity under ad valorem tariff system.

By reviewing the submission of original entries by foreign manufacturers in cases of disputed valuations, on penalty of exclusion of their products the framers of the bill believed that deliberate undervaluing would be at a minimum. The amendment proposed by Assistant Secretary Curtis, of the Treasury Department, and Assistant Attorney General Dennison, to give the Secretary of the Treasury the right to proclaim valuations on imports, irrespective of foreign markets, also was designed to prevent under-valuations, as well as to steady the revenues under an ad valorem system.

It is now proposed to give the Secretary of the Treasury the right to proclaim values, and in the even foreign manufacturers protest a valuation, require them to submit their books, showing cost of production and foreign value of the goods in dispute. This would remove the objection to the inquisitorial clause by making it operative on appeal of the foreign manufacturer. The other feature authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to fix a general valuation would serve as a protection to custom house against fraud. Secretary McAdoo submitted to Chairman Simmons today his views on this general subject and the committee now has them under advisement.

Loud Protests Aroused.

The proposal to place, for the first time in the country's history, a tariff on raw or undressed furs has aroused loud protest from furriers and the sub-committee headed by Senator Johnson, which has the sundries schedule under consideration, is studying the situation. The Underwood bill proposes a rate of 10 per cent. on raw furs.

One brief filed with the committee by Joseph Ullmann, of New York, stated that a duty, no matter how small, on raw furs would completely destroy an international trade which United States fur merchants have built up. Fur skins are free in all foreign countries except Russia, which has a very small specific duty by weight.

The brief set forth that under the most favorable circumstances the estimated amount of revenue from such a duty, which the Ways and Means committee puts at $1,400,000 would fall decidedly below one-half this amount and insisted that the tariff would result in a loss to American merchants of $6,000,000 annually.

To Amend Bill

It was reported tonight that the subcommittee considering the income tax has about decided to amend the bill so as to give genuine mutual life insurance companies exemption. The measure, it was said, would not be flatly amended to exempt mutual life insurance companies from the tax, but provision would be made whereby which companies, after the tax has been assessed might have an opportunity to show that their business was not conducted for profit. Upon the companies would rest the burden of the proof as to whether they would be entitled to exemption.

Automobiles costing not more than $2,000, it was learned today will be slated for a 30 per cent advalorem tax instead of 45 per cent as in the Underwood bill. This will be in the report of Senator Stone's sub-committee. In the meeting of the full committee another amendment may be adopted to further decrease the tax on automobiles costing less than $1,500. All automobiles costing more than $2,000 the sub-committee graded as luxuries, cars worth $2,000 or less the sub-committee classed as necessities.

AFTER TOBACCO & OIL TRUSTS

Doubt Being Expressed As to Whether Dismembering Decrees of Court Are Being Carried Out—Investigations Reported

Washington, June 3.—Whether decrees of the United States courts dismembering the Standard Oil and the tobacco "trusts" are being carried out was considered today by the Wilson administration with a view to possible institution of the most anti-trust moves yet contemplated by the President and Attorney General McReynolds.

The Oil Industry

In the Standard Oil case the Attorney General received from Charles B. Morrison and Oliver E. Pagean, his special assistants a report of the results of their investigation of conditions in the oil industry and began consideration of the question whether the facts disclosed will justify the Department of Justice in beginning contempt of court or criminal proceedings against oil interests on charges of violations of the dissolution decree. Tonight this question was unsettled.

The Tobacco Case

In the tobacco case practically the entire meeting of the cabinet was devoted to considering whether surface conditions in the tobacco trade warrant the attorney general in beginning an investigation similar to that just finished in the Standard Oil case, to determine whether the decree of dissolution is being violated, and whether all semblance of a "tobacco trust" has disappeared. The Attorney General after the meeting was non-committal as to whether the inquiry would be undertaken.

"Rule of Reason"

Consideration of the workings of the decrees in the two big cases—the Tobacco at the cabinet meeting and the Standard Oil at the Department of Justice—took place today apparently by co-incidence. Around the "rule of reason" principles first enunciated by the United States Supreme Court in these cases, has been built practically all of the anti-trust litigation since. The opinions have been the guiding stars for the Attorney General so far as the Sherman anti-trust law is concerned.

Mr. McReynolds, who as special assistant to the attorney general fho originally prosecuted the "tobacco trust," has been studying the workings of the decree ever since he entered the cabinet. It is known that he disagreed with former Attorney General Wickersham as to the adequacy of the adopted plan of disintegration. It has been understood that his objections centered around the prorata distribution among shareholders of the "trust" of stock of the 14 corporations into which American Tobacco Company was disintegrated. He was quoted at the time as saying the plan deserved an "expenditious commitment to the scrap heap."

Report of Investigations

The report made to the Attorney General by Messrs. Morrison and Pagan in the oil case is the result of several months investigation. They have studied conditions in various localities and paid particular attention to the soaring prices of oil.

In a preliminary report made to former Attorney General Wickersham just before he retirde from office, these attorneys declared that their partial investigation raised a serious doubt as to whether the Standard Oil Trust had been actually dissolved.

They found that unfair competition had been eliminated and the last few months of their invstigation has been largely devoted to an effort to ascertain whther the control and management of disintegrated parts of the "trust," and the control of the prices of oil still are directed by the same concentrated interests as previously.

SECRETARY DANIELS IMPRESSED

Washington, June 3.—Secretary Daniels today declared he had been impressed with the possibilities of the New York navy yard. He said he was convinced that provision should be made for the construction of another great building slip, so that at least two battleships of the first order might be under construction at the same time.

The Secretary also intends to recommend a substantial increase in the plant of the Norfolk navy yard so as to put it in condition for the construction of first order battleships.

GOV. HATFIELD IS CLEAR OF CHARGES

PREDECESSOR RESPONSIBLE

Report is Made to National Committee of Socialist Party of West Virginia Coal Mine Strike. Outrages.

Chicago, June 3.—Governor Hatfield of West Virginia, was exonerated on a number of charges, popularly circulated against him in connection with the West Virgina coal mine strike in a report to the National committee of the Socialist party, made today by Victor L. Berger, Adolph Germer and Eugene V. Debs, who made a personal investigation.

The burden of resentment in the report is directed against Governor Hatfield's predecessor, Governor Glasscock. It was Governor Glasscock, says the report, who was responsible for martial law and many trocities which the report alleges occurred during his administration.

Governor Hatfield is censured for repressing two Socialist papers and imprisoning their editors, but the report quoted the Governor as admitting this action was unjust, and declaring that the papers might continue to issue without molestation from the State administration.

One portion of the report speaking of the present Governor, says:

"He further claimed that the abundant evidence with which to convict some of the leading strikers in the civil courts, but that he had not felt disposed to press the cases against them."

The committee was appointed by the National committee of the Socialist party, and the report declares the members availed themselves of all sources of reliable information. They declare that they were shadowed from the moment they arrived in West Virginia, but nothing came of it. After several days of investigation it was decided to visit Governor Hatfield, but the latter declared he would see only Debs.

Debs reluctantly consented to go alone, but the interview was so satisfactory, that on the following day the entire committee was received. Of this interview the report says in part:

"He (Governor Hatfield) had inherited martial law from Governor Glasscock, and the reason he permitted it to remain effective was because he was requested to do so by the union miners to prevent them from being assaulted by thugs in the employ of the mine owners."

The committee learned from the Governor that he had two mine guards, and that he had refused to liberate them on bail. The day previous to the interview the Governor had unconditionally released all "comrades" then remaining in prison.

The Governor referred to the fact that not in a single instance had he affirmed a conviction of the military commission, the report states, and continues: "The Governor unhesitatingly declared that working men had the right to organize; that the Socialists had the same right that Republicans and Democrats had, that they were entitled to the right of free speech and free assemblage."

Not Opposed to Investigation.

The committee found the Governor not opposed to the impending Senatorial investigation.

"It was under the administration of Glasscock and not Hatfield," says the report, "that martial law was declared; that the military commission was created; that Mother Jones, John Brown, C. H. Boswell and numerous others were court martialed and convicted, and it was also under the Glasscock adminstration that an armored train, in the name of law and order, shot up the cabins and tents of the miners, dealing out death and destruction under cover of darkness.'

The suppression of the two Socialist papers, both outside the martial law zone, the report characterized as "utterly without warrant and subject to the severest censure."

Demolition of the office of the Star, and the seizure of Editor Thompson are termed "dastardly," although Governor Hatfield is quoted as disavowing knowledge of violence in suppressing that paper. The report continues in part:

"Reports of outrages perpetrated upon defenseless miners and their families during the Glasscock administration have not been exaggerated. Houses and tents were shot up indiscriminately from an armored train; men were assaulted and women insulted by the dastardly mine thugs, and even little children were not spared. As all the trocities against the striking miners and the families will be brought out fully in the Senatorial investigation now under way and placed before the country for its edification as to the despotic misrule of the criminal mine barons, we refrain from the attempt to chronicle them in this report."

The action of the Legislature of West Virginia, by which the report says, the mine guard system was abolished, is said to make it possible for workers to organize without interference from "private thugs and sluggers."

The report declares that in portions of West Virgina owing to alien ownership the feudalism of the middle ages still prevails in wide areas privately owned.

The report makes no mention of former Governor Glasscock having been interviewed.

Washington, June 3.—Announcement was made today that the fifth National Conservation Congress would be held here November 18th to 20th.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

Southern States Pay Tribute to the Memory of Jefferson Davis—Many Places Declare Legal Holiday.

The South paid tribute to the memory of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy today, on the 105th anniversary of his birth. In eight Southern States, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas, the day was observed as a legal holiday, and in other States memoril exercises were held.

In several of the Southern States the day is known as Confederate Memorial Day, but in a few of the States of the old Confederacy, May 10th is set aside as the day on which tribute is paid to the memory of the soldiers of the gray army.

In many parts of the South, not only were the banks, business houses and State offices closed, but employes of postoffices, and other Federal institutions were granted a holiday.

Lexington, Va., June 3.—Confederate Memorial Day, the birthday of Jefferson Davis, was observed here today. Gen. Bennett H. Young, of Louisville, grand commander, United Confederate Veterans, delivered an address in Lee Memorial Chapel and the tomb of Gen. Robert E. Lee was strewn with flowers.

Nashville, Tenn., June 3.—Decoration day exercises at Franklin, Tenn., especially commemorated the execution there June 9th, 1863, of two Confederate officers, Col. Worton Williams, a cousin of Gen. Robert E. Lee, and Lieut. Walter G. Peter. They died declaring they were not spies. Their real mission continues a mystery. H. P. Figures, who saw them hanged, was an orator today.

Columbia, S. C., June 3.—A celebration under the auspices of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, commemorating the anniversary of the birthday of Jefferson Davis, was held here today. Crosses of honor were bestowed on a number of Confederate veterans.

The social feature of the day was the automobile ride from Maxton to Stewartsville, the old home of Col. James McQueen, whose descendants are collecting here now. From there the party went to Queensdale, the family burying ground, where the bodies of Col. McQueen and his wife lie buried.

There are over 2,000 direct living descendants of this couple and they are scattered all over the United States and some into foreign countries. Half of them are expected at this reunion, the first.

Among the out-of-town guests are Mr. H. C. McQueen, of Wilmington; J. W. McQueen, wife and child, of Birmingham, Ala.; Jno. McQueen and Miss Chattie McEachin, of Birmingham; Rev. Stuart McQueen, of Montgomery, Ala.; Donald McQueen and family, Edmund McQueen and family, of Dunbar, S. C.; Rev. Wm. Black and family, of Charlotte; James McNeill and Jno. McSween, of Florence, S. C.; E. L. Moore, of Dillon, S. C.; Rev. A. R. McQueen and Miss Margaret MacQueen, of Dunn, N. C.; A. W. McLean, and family, of Lumberton; Mrs. Archie MacQueen and Robert MacQueen, of Raeford; Wade H. Harris, of Charlotte; Martin McKinnon and wife, of Red Springs; Mrs. French, of Wilmington.

The programme will be carried out in its entirety with the exception of the response of Mr. F. L. Black, of Charlotte, whose forced absence is much regretted by the clansmen.

OUTLINES

The Senate Committee in charge of the agricultural schedule, reversed its former action yesterday by voting to place livestock, wheat and oats on the free list.

Former Postmaster General Hitchcock replied in a statement issued yesterday to the charges against his administration made by Postmaster General Burleson.

Yesterday marked the one hundred and fifth anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis, President of the Southern Confederacy. The day was fittingly commemorated in many Southern cities.

Doubts are being expressed by the Wilson administration as to whether the dismemberment decrees of the United States courts for the dissolution of the Oil and Tobacco "Trusts" are being carried out.

Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, declared from the witness stand before the Senate Investigating committee yesterday, that President Wilson's attitude in regard to the existence of an "insidious lobby" in Washingtou was entirely justified.

A report submitted to the National Committee of the Socialist party yesterday by investigators exonerates Governor Hatfield, of West Virginia, from charges preferred against him in connection with the strike in the coal mining sections of that State.

CAROLINA ALUMNI RETURN TO "HILL"

CLASS REUNIONS A FEATURE

(Special Star Telegram.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., June 3.—This was alumni day on the programme of the commencement finals of the State University and sons of Carolina from near and distant parts came back to the "Hill" to pay tribute to their dear old alma mater. The classes of '63, '88, '93 and '03 again renewed the friendships of undergraduate days in reunion exercises and recounted the achievements and losses of their numbers since graduation.

The class reunions, though not measuring attendance with that of last commencement, brought representation from distant States and even from a foreign land, China. Texas and New York sent representation to greet Carolina on the return of another annual commencement in its long history of near on to a century and a quarter. These sons brought trophies to lay at the feet of the institution that nurtured them in youth and trained them for manly service to State and Nation.

The message of the day to the alumni was delivered by the Right Rev. Robert Strange, of Wilmington, Bishop of East Carolina, a member of the class of '79 of the University. It was a clear and genuine exposition of that sound doctrine, which equally applies to the undegraduate as well as the graduate, that the really successful man is the one combining character with industry.

The annual commencement debate between the Dialectic and Philanthropic societies was won tonight by the Dialectic, who upheld the affirmative. The query was: "Resolved, that those decisions of the courts declaring unconstitutional legislation passed by State legislative bodies should be subject to recall by the voters of the State in question."

The Dialectic was represented by F. L. Webster and J. E. Holmes. The Philanthropic by E. S. Peel and S. W. Whiting.

The speaker, and thereby the winner of the Bingham Medal, will be announced tomorrow morning during the graduating exercises, along with the Mangum medal contest held yesterday. The debate was presided over by Bishop Robert Strange, of Wilmington, who delivered the alumni address this morning.

Bishop Strange's Address.

The annual alumni address was delivered this morning in Gerrard Hall by the Right Rev. Robert Strange, D. D., Bishop of East Carolina. Bishop Strange, who was a member of the class of 1879, made a very impressive speech, frequently referring to his undegraduate days at the University. The theme of Bishop Strange's address was character and energy as a young man's capital. He frequently illustrated his points with comparisons drawn from the lives of men of history, of his classmates, and of men who have made our nation what it is. Bishop Strange said in part:

"Talking one night with a group of men about university life, its honors and their relation to after honors, in life, a friend read us a letter from his father on that subject. His father said that his recollections of college and his experiences in life led him to the conclusion that the boy is father to the man, that it is generally true that the poslion a boy occupies in college is he same relatively that he occupies in after life. As I recall my college friends and acquaintances, as I think of their career in life, I find that statement is true as a whole. And so, my young friends, do your best work here; for it is the general rule that when you pass out of these shades, your character and your destiny are fixed in their direction.

"I think all schools ought to have a larger part of the discipline administered by the students. The college man ought to feel that he is trusted. This cruel and cowardly custom of hazing this survival of the Dark Ages when every man looked on the stranger as his enemy, comes from a twisted sense of right, from a perverted idea of training, or from the savage Indian blood revenge, visiting on another what was inflicted on me.

"The only way to stop it is to appeal to the best in every man. I am sure this is the policy of trust and high appeal which the President and faculty are using in their efforts to break up hazing in the University. It is the best and wisest way, and I believe that they will achieve success in this important matter.

"I believe that the great two-fold basis for achieving what men most value in life is energy and character. The man who has the character to keep him true to the highest conditions of living and has the energy, the motive power, to keep him ever at work moving forward, ought to make a success; he does make a success in life. Theodore Roosevelt has recently said that the true essentials for success in political life are initiative or energy, and character. Pierpont Morgan, the greatest finacier on earth, said character was a man's best financial asset; and his own success was largely due to the fact that men trusted him. His tremendous energy and his unsullied character carried him through all troublous times."

Mexico City, June 3.—President Huerta issued a decree today in conformity with the recent action of Congress fixing October 26th as the date for elections.

HITCHCOCK MAKES STATEMENT

Former Postmaster General Replies to the Attack on His Administration Made by Postmaster General Burleson.

Silver City, N. M., June 3.—On arriving at Silver City today from the Mogollon mountains where he has been spending some weeks, former Postmaster General Hitchcock was shown the statement issued a few days ago by Postmaster General Burleson attacking his adminstration of the Postoffice Department. Mr. Hitchcock issued the following statement:

"A committee composed in the main of newly appointed assistants having been less than three months experience in postoffice business, attempts in a report to the present head of the department to discredit the financial showing made by the postal service under President Taft's administration.

"Their statement is as inaccurate as it is gratuitous, for the public well knows that never was the postal service conducted more efficiently or mail handled with greater precision and dispatch than in the closing years of the Taft administration. During that administration, notwithstanding the great extensions of service and the heavy increase in expenditures they required, the Postoffice Department was placed on a self-sustaining basis and that was its condition when on March 4th it passed into the hands of newly appointed officers who seem thus far to haxe been exhausting their time and their energy in a violative attempt to detract from the record made by the devoted public servants they succeeded.

"The postal committee of a Democratic House of Congress endeavored last year in a similar manner to attack the audited accounts of the postal service, but afterwards a committee was fair enough to admit that the department had become self-sustaining. The returns as to surplus or deficit are made up not by Postoffice Department, but by the Treasury Department, where all postal income is received and all postal accounts finally audited.

"The Secretary of the Treasury reported the wiping out of the postal deficit and the record thus certified to in his fiscal report is likely to stand in history. If the Postoffice Department could have received a proper allowance for the cost of carrying franked mail the postal surplus would have been much larger than that recorded and this is true after deducting the expense incurred on account of the postal service by the Treasury Department for the free quartering of certain postoffices in Federal buildings, an expense that is less than half the cost of the franking privilege.

"In the fiscal year 1912 more than 300,000,000 pieces of mail, having an aggregate weight of about 61,000,000 pounds, were carried free of charge under the franks of Congressmen, and of the various government establishments. If postage at the usual rates had been paid on this matter it is estimated that the postal revenues would have been increased by more than $20,000,000.

"In the last administration we appealed in vain to a Democratic House for legislation abolishing the franking abuse.

"The United States postal service is the largest business organization in the world. It requires a high order of business ability and the closest kind of application on the part of the varous officers in charge to conduct successfully a public service so extensive and so intricate.

"The question may very naturally present itself in the public mind as to why the present officers of the department, instead of consuming all this time in an endeavor to discredit the good work of the men they succeeded are not devoting themselves attentively to the important branches of the service entrusted to their care, even if they are thus far unable in their experience to map out and execute a constructive postal programme so as to broaden still further the usefulness of the Postoffice Department.

"They will doubtless find it a considerable task, and one requiring their strict attention to give the country the efficiency of the postal service as developed and extended by their predecessors, and particularly of those great branches of the service recently established for the benefit of the people by a Republican administration, the Postal Savings Bank and the Parcel Post."

Whole Train Plunged Into River Near Cumnock, N. C.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Sanford, N. C., June 3.—Train No. 10 of the Raleigh, Charlotte & Southern Railroad was wrecked at Deep River bridge, near Cumnock, this afternoon about 6 o'clock, the entire train going into the river. The train is a mixed passenger and freight, running between Mt. Gilead and Colon. The engine, three box cars and one coach fell into the river killing one man and injuring a number of others.

The dead is Mr. Bowden Stewart, of Hemp, N. C. The injured are: White—Fred Burns, Osgood, N. C., seriously hurt; R. C. WILSON'S LOBBY CHARGE JUSTIFIED

SOCIAL LOBBYING ATTACKED

Practice of Flattering Senators is Denounced as Subtle Method of Lobbyism—Important Communication Disclosed.

Washington, June 3.—"Social lobbying in Washington justifies every word President Wilson uttered in regard to the presence of an 'insidious lobby' at the Capitol," Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, declared on the witness stand today before the Senate Investigating committee. It was the first unequivocal statement in support of the President's attitude since the inquiry began.

The Iowa Senator said that he believed most "insidious" and powerful lobbying possible was the practice of flattering Senators by having them out to dinners, to theatres and on automobile rides, ingratiating the host with the distinguished guests. Pointing to the sworn testimony of Edward Hines, a "lumber king" before the Lorimer election investigation that he entertained Senators at a local hotel at dinners at a time when the lumber schedule in the Payne-Aldrich bill was before the Senate, Senator Kenyon declared it was his belief that Senators were being entertained in this "insidious" way at present.

He also denounced ex-Senators for capitalizing their privilege of the floor by using it to lobby. Referring to one ex-Senator representing many railroads in Washington and often seen on the floor of the Senate, he advocated the enactment of legislation to prohibit an ex-Senator from being a lobbyist.

Senator Hughes, of New Jersey, and Senator James, of Kentucky, told the investigators for the first time of the trials and tribulation of majority members of the Finance committee with the many persons who had flocked to Washington to present their views. Neither knew of any attempts to corrupt Senators, but both declared they could have done better work if they had been bothered less. The Senators as did Senator LaFollette, who followed them on the stand, believed legislation against lobbyists would be a good thing.

Senators let it be known today that they had received registered mail which purported to be a reproduction of a letter from the American Cane Growers Association of the United States, sent to members asking for contribution to a fund for the use of a "large ocmmittee in Washington." The copy was dated New Orleans, April 2nd, 1913, and read as follows:

"Dear Sirs:—Your association has a large committee in Washington now using every effort possible to try to save the sugar industry.

"We have hesitated about calling on you, but as we are now overdrawn in the bank, it is absolutely necessary that we have funds at once and therefore call on you to please send one-half of your subscription, say five cents per 1,000 pounds on the crop of 1911.

"This is very important and we would like to have remittances at once.

"Yours very truly,

"CHARLES A. FARWELL,

"President."

The copy came in an envelope postmarked Washington, on the back of which in ink was written the name W. L. Bass.

Senator Ransdell, who received one of the letters, said the American Cane Growers' Association has been in existence for ten years or more; that it maintained an office in New Orleans and conducted an open campaign on behalf of the sugar purposes of Louisiana. He added that for several weeks the organization had kept and office in a Washington skyscraper with its name over the door.

The letter did not appear in the lobby investigation today, but it probably will.

Statement of Senator Penrose

Senator Penrose told the committee that in his 16 years' experience in Washington he never had known of attempts to improperly influence members of Congress. He gave the names of 175 persons who had called on him since January 1st on the tariff but declared that none were "lobbyists" in the general acceptance of the term.

"It's well known that certain interests have agents here," said the Senator, "and I suppose they are paid salaries. They evidently get information from their organizetion. Their work is perfectly legitimate."

Senator Penrose was the liviest witness of the morning session. Other Senators testified they knew of no undue influences and told of their personal interests. The list of 175 names which Mr. Penrose gave the committee incllded manufacturers, labor leaders, attorneys, importers and others who feared they would be affected by tariff changes.

Senator Penrose estimated that about 40 per cent as many persons had come to Washington on tariff business this year as compared with four years ago.

Senator Lippett Testifies

Senator Lippett testified that he owned about one-quarter of a cotton cloth plant, capitalized at $6,000,000 and located at Providence, R. I. He had talked with other Senators about the tariff. He furnished a list of 25 tariff visitors. Common stock of the Manville Cotton Company, of which he was manager, had gone down probably fifty per cent because of the threatened tariff reduction, he said.

The Senator said he believed some of his suggestions to the Ways and

FALKENBERG SCORES AGAIN

Won Tenth Consecutive Victory for Naps—Athletics Also Won—Senators Defeated Browns Red Sox Beat Cubs

Those Tigers from Detroit went to pieces completely, Ty Cobb and all, and Philadelphia took yesterday's game on five hits, five errors, and numerous passes issued by Dauss, pitching for the Tigers. They are now separated from seventh place by the uncomfortably small margin of three points, which position attained, will place them next door neighbor to those "low-down" Nef York Yankees, who are running a race of their own for the cellar championship.

Cy Falkenberg scored his tenth consecutive victory by winning yesterday's game for the Cleveland Dodgers. Ray Keating pitched a good game for the Yankees, but was given miserable support.

The Washington Senators took the first game of the season that the St. Louis Browns have played at Washington. Groom outpitching Hamilton throughout the game, allowing only six well scattered hits. Washington by the victory goes back to third place, Chicago dropping back into fourth place again.

The Boston Red Sox, champions of the world, now enjoying a berth in fifth place, raised their championship pennant yesterday, and afterward took the first game of the Western invasion from Chicago, making what Manager Stahl chooses to call it, their start for a climb to another pennant. Tris Speaker was credited with three safe hits in yesterday's game, having made a total of 34 hits in the last 22 games, one or more in each game.

Falkenberg Again

New York, June 3.—Falkenberg was credited with his tenth straight victory today when Cleveland beat New York 8 to 2. He was taken out in the sixth to let LaJoie bat for him, as New York was ahead at the time. Keating pitched well but his support was bad.

New York . . . .010 001 000—2 4 4

Falkenberg, Steen and Carisch; Keating, Warhop and Sweney. Time 1:57. Umpires, Egan and Evans.

Athletics Won Again

Philadelphia, June 3.—Bases on balls, five errors and five hits gave Philadelphia the game over Detroit today 7 to 3. The visitors made their few hits count heavily and led by 3 to 0 when the team went to bat in the sixth session.

Detroit . . . . . .010 011 000—3 5 5
Philadelphia . . .000 003 13x—7 6 2

Dauss and Stanage; Plank and Strunk, Lapp. Time 1:52. Umpires Ferguson and Dineen.

Senators Defeated Browns

Washington, June 3.—Washington defeated St. Louis today in the visitors' initial appearance of the season here 3 to 2. Both teams scored all their runs as a result of fielding or battery errors. Groom outpitched Hamilton and struck out 12 men.

St. Louis . . . . . .000 200 000—2 6 4
Washington . . . .000 002 10x—3 8 2

Red Sox Start Upward

Boston, June 3.—The Red Sox raised their American League championship pennant today. Afterward they captured from Chicago the first game here of the Western invasion and made what Manager Stahl expects to be the beginning of a climb leading to another pennant. The score was 3 to 2. Tris Speaker, who hit safely three times today, has made at least one hit in each of 22 consecutive games, the total being 34 hits.

Chicago . . . . . .000 020 000—2 8 1
Boston . . . . . .001 000 11x—3 9 2

BROOKLYN BAPTIST REVIVAL.

Fine Sermon Last Night by Rev. H. C. Bowen on "Excuses."

Last night Rev. H. C. Bowen, pastor of the Dock Street Christian church, delivered the sermon at the revival at Brooklyn Baptist church and his effort was heard by a crowded house. The subject was "Excuses" handled in such a forceful way that it must have made a lasting and a profitable impression upon his hearers. There were two more additions to the church last evening and interest in the series of meeting is evidently increasing. The sermon this evening will be delivered by Rev. W. L. Rexford, pastor of the Bladen Street Methodist church, and the public is invited to hear him. There will be special music by the male quartette. Last evening the Misses Nixon sang.

Commuters' Tickets Ready.

Commuters' tickets for use on the Tidewater Power Company's suburban lines are on sale at the general offices on Princess street. There are 26 round trip tickets in each book, good for 40 days from date of sale, and selling for a price that is 10 per cent. less than straight fare would be. The rate for a book for Seaside is $4.69; Wrightsville $5.85 and Wrightsville Beach $7.80. Use of commuters' tickets is limited to the purchaser. There is demand that the tickets be extended to the use of any member of a man's family, but it doesn't appear likely that the concession will be extended so far as that.

Token of Appreciation.

It was learned yesterday that Dr. C. W. Stiles, surgeon in charge of the United States Marine Hospital at this place, has telegraphed Sunday to Mrs. John D. Artiley, whose husband lost his life in trying to save Dr. Ralph E. Knouse last Saturday, offering her a position as clerk in case it should become necessary for her to provide her support as a result of her husband's death. The offer was in token of the appreciation of Mr. Artiley's self-sacrifice in behalf of a hospital official.

Skulls of Both Fractured.

The condition of Carl Bryant and Irene Maitz, colored, who sustained injuries of a serious character in the automobile smash-up Sunday on the Scott's Hill road, remains unchanged. Inquiry at the hospital brought the statement that it was thought the skulls of both were fractured and that both are in a bad way. The four other negroes who were in the machine when it turned turtle were not seriously hurt.

GIANTS DISPLACE DODGERS

Ames Defeated Superbas, Aiding Giants into Second Place—Tesreau Won for Giants.—Pirates Defeated Braves.

The New York Giants, for the first time since the first week of the season, are again in second place this morning, this being brought about by the fact that big Jeff Tesreau was "there" yesterday, allowing St. Louis just seven hits, well sprayed about through the game, being good for only three tallies by the Cardinals, while the Giants hit the St. Louis twirlers freely throughout.

The other circumstance which aided the Giants to attain this, for them, lofty position, was the fact of the Brooklyn Dodgers having dropped the initial game to Cincinnati. The coincidence of this game was the fact that while McGraw last week sold Pitcher Ames to the Reds, the big fellow did as much on yesterday, by defeating Brooklyn, allowing just three hits, as if he had twirled and won a game for the Giants.

The Pittsburg Pirates had easy sailing with the Boston Braves, and brought about another tie with Chicago for fourth position by winning the game, 7 to 2.

FIRST MONTH SALARY SYSTEM.

Wrong Time of the Year for Plan to Make Showing.

The salary system in New Hanover county has just completed its first month of operation and the showing made is poor for a starter, though it must be borne in mind that at this season business is very dull in every office in the Court House. The Register of Deeds is the only officer who paid expenses during the month, and he had a narrow margin. No settlement had been made with the Sheriff up to yesterday, and the figures given herewith are probably not exact. The figures given in the Clerk's office take no cognizance of the revenue derived from the Recorder's court during the month, but the expense includes the salary of the clerk of the Recorder's court, hence the showing in this instance is not as full as it will be when the auditor completes his monthly report of all offices.

The Register of Deeds turned in fees amounting to $360.80, and expenses amounting to $358.32. The Sheriff's fees for the month amounted to about $233.89, and the expense of the office was $541.67. The Clerk's fees were $199.80, and the expense $379.17. In all cases the expense includes salaries.

The Recorder's court closed the month without a cent owing by delinquents in costs or fines, and the excellent record was made of collecting $200.15 in back fines and costs, due prior to May 1st.

STATE BOARD AGRICULTURE

Finance Committee in Session—New Insurance Laws—Amendments to Constitution—Other News Notes of Interest

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 3.—The finance committee of the State Board of Agriculture was in session today going over the affairs of the Department for the past six months preparatory for the semi-annual session of the board Wednesday and Thursday and possibly continuing later into the week.

The Department has had a very satisfactory half year and a new undertaking that will be launched most probably at this meeting is the development of lime deposits for agricultural purposes. State convicts to be used under special provision of the Legislature, and the deposits to be worked in different sections of the State for best freight distribution advantages. Greatly reduced freight rates have been announced by the railroads. Deposits of lime in the Wilmington, the Newbern, the Ahoskie and the Hendersonville sections are to be considered mostly.

The Department of Agriculture estimate of the status of the fruit crops in this State at this time is 40 per cent of an average crop of apples, 15 per cent of pears, 30 per cent of peaches and 60 per cent of grapes.

Commissioner of Insurance Young calls attention to the frequent fires that start in North Carolina towns in pressing clubs. Gasoline is used in these places for cleaning clothes and the fire risk is very great. He suggests to city officials that these pressing clubs should not be allowed in the fire districts.

The new insurance laws of the State have been grouped in a booklet by Commissioner of Insurance Young and are being distributed to insurance companies and agents. These laws include the agent's qualification law, the law forbidding misrepresentation by agents in inducing insurers to transfer contracts from one company to another, the requirement that all contract forms of insurance must be submitted to the insurance commissioner for approval. A comparatively new law for this State is that allowing from ten to fifteen per cent increase in insurance rates for fire protection where the building is occupied by a tenant instead of the owner. This is a law, too, that raises no little protest and resentment where insurers have their attention called to it. Many are contending that there is no reason for any such discrimination and that the General Assembly would not knowingly enact such a law.

The legislative commission for passing on proposed amendments to the State Constitution and submitting amendments to be acted on by the special session of the Legislature later in the year convenes in its second session here Wednesday to get down to the work of actually adopting or rejecting proposed amendments. The commission's action to be, of course, only recommendatory to the special session of the Legislature which finally submits to the people at the polls for ratification or rejection whatever amendments it agrees upon. Two amendments that have been proposed to the commission by Mr. W. P. Batchelor, of this city, propose to change the constitution so that no member of the Legislature shall be eligible to fill the first term of any office created by that Legislature, and that no member of the Legislature shall be allowed to vote on any measure directly concerning any corporation, railroad or otherwise, for which he has been counsel or otherwise employed within three years prior to election to the Legislature.

It is understood that the new city commission will soon adopt an ordinance that will grant licenses to drug stores to sell whiskey at probably an annual tax of $250. Attorney General Bickett has just knocked out by an adverse ruling a feature of the new city charter whereby it was specified that license to sell whiskey should be $100 per month. He holds that this provision is void as selling whiskey is prohibited by the State law. But he takes the view that drug prescriptions of whiskey are a different proposition and that the city commission has the right to grant such licenses at its discretion and at whatever tax it elects.

RICHARD A. JORDAN DEAD.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C., June 3.—After a serious illness extending over a period of about two months, Mr. Richard A. Jordan died at his home here this morning at 4 o'clock. He had been suffering with enlargement and hardening of the glands of the entire body, and several weeks ago went to Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore, where he spent about a week without improvement or encouragement, and has since grown gradually worse without hope.

Deceased was about 50 years old and is survived by his aged father, also his wife and two daughters, Mrs. R. L. Thornton, of Goldsboro, and Mrs. Morris Barfield, of Mount Olive, and two brothers, Messrs. A. G. Jordan and Charlie Jordan, of the Dobbersville section.

The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon with interment in the family burying ground near his former home about ten miles from here. Mr. Jordan's long weeks of suffering, the great anxiety of his family and his apparently untimely end have aroused the deepest sympathy of the good people of this community.

DEATH OF MR. GEO. T. PATE.

Magnolia Young Man Passes Away at Wilson—Funeral.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Magnolia, N. C., June 3.—This community was shocked Saturday when it was learned that Mr. George Thomas Pate, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Pate, had passed away. After a week's illness, he was taken Thursday to a sanitarium at Wilson, N. C. Nothing, however, could be done to relieve him and he died Saturday of intestinal obstruction. His remains arrived at Magnolia Saturday midnight and were taken to the home of his parents, about a mile from town, where the funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. E. C. Sell, pastor of the Methodist church, and Rev. J. H. Booth, pastor of the Baptist church. The interment was near the home. George, as he was called, was in his 22nd year. He was a good, quiet, industrious young man and the large crowd of sorrowing relatives, friends and neighbors that followed the body to the grave, was proof of the high esteem in which he was held.

ELON COLLEGE FINALS.

Society Contests and Address by Prof. Kent and Other Features.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elon College, N. C., June 3.—The feature of the third day of commencement yesterday was this year as in previous years, the essays and orations of the representatives of the three literary societies, the Clio, the Philologian and the Psiphelian. These representatives are chosen from the Junior class by their respective societies and their appearance is always a most pleasing event of the annual commencement season.

The first orator was Mr. Kirby William Loftin, Kinston, who represented the Clio Society, and who spoke with appreciation of the Future Industrialism of the South. Mr. Gilmer Gustave Holland, Holland, Va., also representing the Clio Society, spoke from the theme, Life and Its Possibilities, pleading for idealism as against realism or materialism. The representatives of the Psiphelian Society then came with their charming essays, Miss Nina Pinnix, Kernersville, N. C., who discussed the prevailing educational tendencies of today with sharp discrimination, but without unqualified endorsement, using as her subject, "Whither Drifting." Miss Sallie Warren Foster, Burlington, N. C., followed her and took as her subject, "Unknown Heroes", proving that the heroes that are not known are the real architects and producers of the heroes who are known, instancing such illustrious examples as the washtub mother of Governor John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, the first Democratic Governor of that State.

Mr. Marvin Stanford Revell, Kenly, N. C., representing the Philologian Society, entered for the farmer an eloquent plea, showing that he is the backbone of the various orders of modern life and that he is now coming into his own. His subject was "A New, Yet Old Order—The Farmer."

The concluding speaker was Mr. Clyde Carney Johnson, Siler City, N. C., representative of the Philologian Society, himself an athlete and manager of next year's baseball team, who discussed with full appreciation of all interests concerned, "The Relation of Athletics to College Education."

Dr. Charles W. Kent, professor of English in the University of Virginia, and one of the South's foremost scholars and orators, covered himself with glory in his great address before the literary societies of the college this morning. Dr. Kent was introduced by Prof. W. P. Lawrence, of the Department of English in the college, who referred to him as "the man who has done more to perpetuate Southern literature and bring it into its own than any other individual," which remark the audience appreciated by generous applause.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the Department of Expression of which Miss Ethel Clements is director, gave its annual commencement recital and rendered a pleasing programme of choice selections from Shakespeare, Browning, Tennyson and such authors. The young ladies taking part were Miss Nannie Haskins, Virgilina, Va.; Miss Annie Laurie Wicker, Elon College, N. C.; Miss Myrtle Macleary, Suffolk, Va.; Miss Viola Frazier, Elkton, Va., certificate; Miss Mary Williams, Suffolk, Va., certificate; Miss Nellie Sue Fleming, High Point, N. C., certificate.

This evening at 8 o'clock the Department of Music was greted by a tremendous audience to hear its 24th annual concert. The selections were from such great masters as Chopin, Wagner, Moszkowski, Litzi and others and were rendered by the advanced pupils of the directors' class. Those participating in the programme were Miss Annie Simpton, Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Ethel Barrett, Dayton, O., certificate in piano; Miss Hattie Belle Smith, Elon College, certificate in piano; Miss Madge Moffitt, Ramseur, N. C.; Miss Beatrice Mason, Nashville, N. C., certificate in piano; Miss Jennie Willis Atkinson, Elon College; Miss Maibelle Pritchette, Altamahaw, N. C., diploma in piano; Miss Minnie Riedel, Holland, Va., certificate in piano; Miss Madelle Woodruff, Lumpkin, Ga.; Miss Blanche Newman, Holland, Va.; Miss Pearl Tuck, Virgilina, Va.; Miss Viola Rollings, Sebrell, Va.; Miss Annie Bagwell, Durham, N. C., certificate in voice; Miss Grace Rollings, Sebrell, Va.; Mr. O. M. Barnes, Greensboro, diploma in voice, and Mr. M. E. Woodward, Suffolk, Va. There have been more than 100 music pupils in the department this year.

Tomorrow will be the final day of commencement, when the graduating exercises of the class of 1913 will take place. The concluding event of the season will be the alumni address on tomorrow evening, to be delivered by Mrs. J. K. Ruebush, Dayton, Va., whose subject is to be "Universal Democracy."

SEWERAGE FOR DUNN.

Black River for Outlet—New Church. Other News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Dunn, N. C., June 3.—The town fathers and citizens committee met a few days ago and instructed Mr. Gilbert C. White, who has been consulting with the authorities, to prepare plans and specifications and advertise for bids for a complete sewerage system for the town. It has been definitely decided to go to Black river as an outlet and use disposal tanks when the river is low in the Fall and Summer.

A two weeks' meeting has just closed at the Methodist church, which was one of the most successful ever held here. Rev. E. M. Hoyle, of Greenville, assisted Rev. J. H. Shore, the regular pastor. About 20 new members were added to the church.

The contract has been let and Mr. J. N. Creel is now moving the old church building preparatory to the erection of a modern brick church by the Methodists. They will begin work as soon as the lot is cleared, now having on hand sufficient funds and subscriptions to build a very handsome church.

"Clean up day" was a grand success last week. The movement was backed by by the Chamber of Commerce, the Civic League and the city fathers. Several prizes were awarded to those having the cleanest yard and the largest pile of tin cans.

Judge Victor H. Boyden was in town Monday and Tuesday, hearing some cases in bankruptcy.

Mr. O. P. Shell, secretary and treasurer of the municipal association, went to Greensboro Tuesday to attend a meeting of the executive committee of that organization.

The rains last week have made a decided charge in crop prospects. While cotton is going to be several weeks late there is now a good stand and it is growing nicely. Corn is above the average and promises a fine crop.

At the regular monthly meeting last night the Dunn Chamber of Commerce decided to have an old-time celebration of the Fourth. A committee of five was appointed to look after details and get up entertainments that would bring the country people to town and give them pleasure.

SOUTHPORT ITEMS

Election on Bonds Called in Brunswick—Other News Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., June 3.—The Board of County Commissioners met here yesterday, in regular monthly session. One matter of special interest was calling the election to vote on the question of bonds for the construction of a bridge over Brunswick river. This is to connect with the bridge to be built by New Hanover over the Cape Fear, as agreed upon some months ago.

The Cape Fear Laundry and Manufacturing Company, of this city, has just been incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000. The incorporators are J. S. Craig, R. B. Morse and F. P. Crockett, of this place. The company proposes to erect a plant here, at first doing a steam laundry business, and later the company expects to engage in manufacturing.

Saturday midnight, the life saving crews at Cape Fear and Oak Island stations received an "honorable discharge," to be effective during June and July, this in the ordinary sense means a vacation of two months. The captains of each station will be on guard during the two months.

Colonel and Mrs. H. K. White have returned after several months' absence. They have been visiting at Atlanta, Ga., and Montgomery and Mobile, Ala.

Mrs. Bennett, wife of Col. Bennett, of Fort Caswell, leaves this week for New York city for a few weeks' visit.

The dredge Potomac is at work opening up the channel leading to the dock on the north side of Fort Caswell, which has been partly closed, making the dock of practically no service. It will be dredged to ten feet, with an entrance of 80 feet.

Up to near the end of May, the month was a dry one in this vicinity. The rainfall for the month here was 3.02 inches, the greater part of this precipitation coming within three days. Crop reports from all parts of the lower Brunswick are fine.

Jailor Russ has eight prisoners in the county jail, of these six are males. These prisoners come up for trial at the September term of court.

There is the usual Summer schedule now in effect on the river, the steamer Wilmington, Sunday, making the change. Week days the boat leaves here at 12:15 noon. On Sundays there are two boats, leaving here at 11:45 A. M. and 4:45 P. M.

Next month the W., B. & S. Ry., will inaugurate an extra train service between Wilmington and Southport. Instead of two trains daily, except Sunday, as now run, there will be four trains. The schedule for these trains has as yet not been announced.

The W., B. & S. Ry., pier is now at its river point of extension, that is, its pilings reach to the channel, 22 feet at low water, 27 feet at high The pilings to complete the extension of 90 feet at the head of the dock are expected this week. The work of docking over the pilings already driven continues.

NEWBERN ELKS COMING.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., June 3.—The members of the Newbern Lodge of Elks have made elaborate plans for attending the convention of the State Association of Elks to be held in Wilmington on Thursday and Friday of this week. A number of the members of the local antlered tribe, among whom will be William Dunn, Jr., president of the State Association, will go to Wilmington Thursday morning. Friday morning a special train will be operated to that place from this city and on this there will be about 100 Elks, their wives, daughters, sweethearts, brothers and sisters. On that day the big Elks' parade will be held and the local members are planning to make a creditable showing in this. Their costumes will consist of blue serge coats, white trousers and slippers and white sailor hats around which will be a purple band bearing the name of the local lodge. In all it is expected that about 125 local Elks will attend the convention.

HOW TO GAIN HEALTHY FLESH

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., Advises Uso of Samose

While thinness may not be a disease, yet it is in reality a condition that needs attention. Under the nourishing power of Samose healthy, natural flesh will soon be attached.

This remarkable flesh-forming food strengthens the system generally and builds up the fleshy tissues so that good natural plumpness results.

An ounce of flesh is better than a pound of theory. J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company believe that the best possible demonstration of the flesh-forming powers of Samose is to have it tried by their customers and to induce them to use it they offer to pay for the Samose in case it does not give satisfaction. No stronger proof than this can be given of their faith in it. They have seen hundreds who were weak, thin and scrawny, become plump, robust and strong, solely through the use of Samose.

THE STAR

WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC.
Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

Wednesday, June 4, 1913.

What's the difference between a mollycoddle and a milksop?

Some men look at everything from a superlative angle, while other would look an apple all over to get to point out a speck.

The difference between a man and the moon is that when the moon is full it doesn't have to make any excuses about it.

"My Dear Harriman"—but let it all pass. It's mighty hard to prove anything from what one practical man writes to another.

The death of a Chicago man has attracted a great deal of attention because it revealed the fact that he left three widows and two fiances.

Eve started this whole thing of getting something for nothing, and even to this day something of that kind looks good to the whole human race.

For the same reason that it would not pay us to buy our milk in the West it does not pay us to buy our butter, beef, pork and mutton in the West.

A Virgina paper speaks of a man as "every inch a gentleman and politician". Probably he has the air of a gentleman and the hot air of a politician.

In these days of investigation, every man ought to begin a quiet investigation of himself to ascertain whether his appetite prefers loaded sweet milk to grape fruit.

"A man's bones can be seen by means of the X-ray," says a contemporary. If the X-ray is not handy the same result can be had by getting him to try on a peek-a-boo waist.

Since his pardon, Mr. Charles W. Morse has recovered his health and is recovering about everything he lost. A man with health can go right out with a sack and get what's coming to him. It won't come to him who waits.

Even the pines in North Carolina have a manifold value. They provide turpentine, rosin, tar, pitch, medicines, germicides, lumber and happy homes. The "Land of the Long Leaf Pine" is more kinds of a versatile country than any land on the top side of the globe.

The Colonel wanted vindication and not money. He was satisfied to take six cents along with his vindication, but some people would have insisted on the $10,000 as that much salve for wounded feelings. Vindication instead of vindictiveness should be the rule in sueing newspapers for libel.

A New York man says he is "looking for a wife with a beautiful soul—one who knows how to keep house and cook a nice meal." The poor fellow wants a wife just like a North Carolinian would get if he were to shut his eyes and make a grab at a bunch of Tar Heeliennes.

A contemporary says a Kansas man has lightened woman's burdens by inventing a device which rings an alarm when the pan under the refrigerator is running over. It's all right, but it would be more so if he could invent something that would keep the old man from turning a deaf ear to the alarm.

When a man opens a door to enter a store or the postoffice the average man will rush out instead of waiting till the other enters. We've seen it happen a hundred times, and if you will stand at the postoffice and watch you will see it happen every day. What has become of the old fashioned gentleman who used to step aside till it was his turn?

It is easier for a man to say a thing than to prove it. He may say a thing and get out of it by pretending that he was misunderstood, but if he prints it and can't prove it, all he can do is to try to get off by paying six cents. We have seen men who insisted that newspapers should make serious charges at their dictum, when the informant woud'nt dare to print the same statement over his signature. On the contrary, there are men who want to rush into print over their own signature without caring a whit for what it might cost the newspaper. There are two classes of men against whom newspapers have to be on their guard. One wants the editor to take the responsibility and the other takes the responsibility and lets the editor take the consequences.

A Congressman who has ever been insidiously approached by a lobbyist and never made it known at the time it happened, would hardly be expected to say anything about it this late in the day. The fact is, a lobbyist does not make a dash at a Congressman with a proposition till he knows his man. However, many a Congressman has been out with a real clever gentleman without knowing that he was doing the work of a lobbyist. The real slick article is never known as a lobbyist. He does his work under cover, and is even slicker than McMurray, of whom Senator Ashurst said: "He is the smoothest lobbyist I have ever seen. He could carry a bundle of eels up stairs without dropping a single one." He surely was some slick, but it takes the pussy foot gentleman of influence to get a Congressman in co-partnership with him before he knows it.

DOCTORING THE LAND

The up-to-date farmer is now an agricultural scientist. He takes a course and comes out a master. In learning the business the first thing he has to do is to doctor the soil. We know a farmer who doctors his land an acre at a time, and he calls it putting his land in the hospital. He takes an acre at a time and brings it up to a high state of cultivation because it costs money to do it. He practically makes his land over again, but when he got it restored after about three years of doctoring, the crops paid him a net profit of 30 per cent on the price of the land and the cost of its restoration to fertility.

After he took his land from the hospital he produced as much on it as three and four acres used to do. While he increased his production per acre he reduced the amount of labor in the same proportion. In fact, labor reached its highest efficiency when it was rewarded with a yield of a bale and a half of cotton for the work on one acre instead of a bale and a half on three acres calling for three times as much work. He figured up one day that a hand working twenty acres of good land got a crop equivalent to that produced on sixty acres of poor land by two hands. He got more from his land and more for the labor employed.

The Greenville (S. C.) Chamber of Commerce has a farm demonstrator for the purpose of developing the agricultural resources of Greenville county. He is Mr. C. B. Haddon, and, if through his efforts, Greenville's production is increased even 10 per cent, it is a great work and will handsomely pay the Chamber of Commerce, the business men of Greenville, and the farmers of the county. Soil restoration is one of the chief aims of Demonstrator Haddon, and each week he publishes in the Greenville News an article dealing with some subject of vital interest to the farmers.

In the Greenville News of Monday, Mr. Haddon tells about the result of restoring fifteen acres of land to fertility. Only a few years ago, as farmed by negro tenants, the fifteen acres produced three bales of cotton, a fact which shows what a low state of productivity it had reached. Last year it produced 14 500-pound bales, or nearly five times as much as it did a few years ago. The same labor required to produce three bales now produces fourteen bales. Thus it is seen that it doesn't pay to farm on poor land and it doesn't pay to waste labor on it when rich land will make labor worth paying.

The Greenville farmer restored his land by deep ploughing and alternating his crops. He planted a Winter cover crop of rye and vetch and turned it under in the Spring. His land is now free from clods and he uses harrows and weeders when the crop is small, going over the fifteen acres in a day. The owner says it cost him less to cultivate the land than it did when it was farmed by negro tenants. They got three bales to his fourteen bales, so it can be judged what soil restoration will do when it is undertaken by our farmers.

GONE TO A NEW FIELD

Mrs. Euna Clum Atwood, lately associated with Miss Kate E. Griswold in the publication of the Southport News, came up to the city Monday and will leave this evening for Washington, D. C., where she seeks a National field for her journalistic talent. Miss Griswold departed a few days ago for her home in West Hartford, Conn., and it is hardly worth while to state that these two able newspaper women are missed at Southport, which is now inspired with the highest aspirations of its entire existence. Miss Griswold scored marvelous success as business manager of The News, and as editor Mrs. Atwood dispiayed keen initiative and invested her editorials with a fearlessness that was admirable. She hit from the shoulder at times, and all her work was for the good of the town.

For two and a half years Mrs. Atwood and Miss Griswold conducted The News with marked ability. They gave the town a live and fearless paper and established for it a standard of the highest character and public excellence. They believed in Southport, and their earnest work and tireless energy in newspaper work there will leave its impression on the city that is to be located on the Atlantic end of the Cape Fear ocean gateway.

Mrs. Atwood goes to Washington where she soon will begin publication of Atwood's Weekly. Her new paper will be Nationwide in its scope, and it will cover a feature field not now exploited at the Nation's capital. Its policy will be one of broad uplift and generally it will feature National subjects and capital topics. It will furnish the sidelights at the seat of the Republic's government and it is easy to conceive that it will mirror features of the National life at which there is not at present a glimpse.

Mrs. Atwood carries with her to Washington the commendation and best wishes of the people of Wilmington and Southport. They wish her the most abundant success, and The Star joins them in their good wishes and in the prediction that her achievements in Washington will be both brilliant and noteworthy throughout the Nation.

WHERE DISCRIMINATION HURTS.

The railroads doing business in North Carolina ought to be willing to compromise in the matter of freight rates as they affect this State. The instances of discrimination are so glaring and the effect is so serious that in their own interest they should adjust a situation that has aroused a whole State. According to the Charlotte Chronicle, this is one of the serious results of discriminatory rates:

"Several North Carolina cities have lost valuable enterprises to cities of Virginia and South Carolina because of the discrimination against our cities in the matter of freight rates. And yet some people are willing to let this matter draw along for another year or so! The vast majority of North Carolinians, however, manufacturers, jobbers, merchants, farmers and other business men and professional men, are in favor of immediate action by the Legislature and there is no doubt but that relief will be sought and secured through this course."

Driving out industries and driving jobbers into other territory is driving away capital. What could be said of the business methods that would prevent progress instead of creating it? We are sure the railroads don't mean to do that, and if it is a true bill it would seem that it is up to them to so readjust rates that they shall be territorially just and particularly just to themselves. This is their territory, and with their progressive steps to promote the development of agriculture and dairying, and the construction of good roads, it is hardly to be supposed that they would develop one resource and stifle another.

By developing the industrial and commercial resources as well as those of agriculture and the material sources of wealth, they would get the most out of a territory which is absolutely necessary to their business. The railroads cannot do injustice or injury to North Carolina without doing injustice or injury to themselves. We can't see how the technicalities of rate basing can be urged against common sense.

OUR MASONIC GUESTS

Wilmington has a cordial welcome for the Masonic bodies which are now holding in this city the annual conventions of their respective grand jurisdictions. There is no use to say that the numerous representatives here from all over the State represent the best there is in their communities and sections. That is well known because of the high standard of Masonry and the representative character of its members. It is good to have men of their type as sojourners, if only for a few days, and so it is that Wilmington is never so pleased as when she is the mecca of the Masons every few years.

If Wilmington makes as good an impression on the Masons as they do upon Wilmington, there will be mutual gratification. It is not only the Masonic fraternity of Wilmington that gives them cordial and hearty greeting but it is all the people of Winsome, Worthwhile Wilmington.

CURRENT COMMENT.

North Carolina is to get $328,000 of new government deposits, distributed in sixteen banks in thirteen cities and towns. Every little bit helps.—Greensboro News.

The growth, development and prosperity of the country districts serve in a great measure to create, support and maintain the growth, development and prosperity of the towns and the cities, so it may be deemed assured that our great natural resources, our fertile lands, productive fields, valuable mines, all attracting the energetic people of other contingents, will for years to come stimulate the business of the cities by their profitable patronage.—Washington Post.

The railroads doing business in North Carolina are said to be ready to again 'go into conference" on the freight rate matter. Of course. For what has resulted from each conference thus far held? Nothing. And worse than nothing, for there has been advantageous delay in favor of the railroads. The people of this State have little faith in further conferences with the railroads. If they mean to do justice let them speak out and say what they will do. The people want only justice.—Raleigh News and Observer.

What any brain ought to be able to comprehend—if it were willing to face the truth—is that when fewer and fewer cattle are raised every year, but more and more human beings to eat meat—and that thing has been going on—the explanation of the rise in the price of beef is as clear as daylight. That if the per capita production of wheat in the United States goes down—and it has been going down—and if the per capita production of wheat in the world goes down—and it does go down—inevitably that result, making for less bread, makes for dearer bread. —New York Press.

Why is it that women are easier victims of pellagra than are men? That they are is one of the problems presented by the disease, which is still much of a mystery to the doctors. Pellagra is increasing in this country and consequently the number of persons who die of it is increasing. But it finds its easiest victims among women. The doctors do not know why, but such statistics of the disease as have been collected show that it is a fact. The total number of deaths caused by pellagra in 1911 in the registration area in the United States was 659. Of these 464, or 70.4 per cent were women. Since 1908, when the number of pellagra deaths became so large as to attract much attention, the same disparity of division of its victims between the sexes has been shown.—Savannah News.

There are all sorts of fools and of knaves too, but it is mighty hard to find a more scurvy kind of a fellow than he who turns in a false alarm of fire and then runs, like the coward that he is. When a real man turns in a real fire alarm he stands by the bix, to tell the firemen where to go, but your knave runs and hides in some dark place. The firemen hasten, unknowing whether the alarm be true or false, but doing their duty by trying to answer it in the quickest and most serviceable way. Just the other day one of our firemen was badly cut by a wire while answering a knave's call. This sort of thing ought to be stopped. The men who send in the alarms do so, it is very gravely said, in most cases when they are drunk, and a drunken knave to be sure is a fellow who will do almost anything.—Raleigh Times.

HIS SECOND ACCIDENT

Young Engineer on Logging Train Injured Near Newbern

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., June 3.—While attempting to couple two log cars together on the Roper Lumber Company's road at Barr's siding, near Riverdale, in this county, Edward Watson, a young white man, an engineer, was caught between the cars and the lower part of his body was horribly crushed. The accident occurred shortly before noon last Saturday and in a short time a special train in which were two of the company's physicians, was sent to the scene of the accident. The injured man was brought to Newbern and placed in Stewart's sanitarium for treatment. Yesterday the physicians decided that his left leg must be amputated in order to save his life, and this was done and the patient is now much better. Mr. Watson has been very unfortunate during the past few weeks. About ten days ago a derrick machine on which he was working fell a distance of 25 feet into Swift creek, near Vanceboro, and at that time he was injured. After spending two or three days in a hospital he was able to be out and had only gone to work again on the day previous to the time that the second accident occurred.

KINSTON AFFAIRS

J. S. Wooten Improving—Grocery Store Change—At LaGrange

(Special Star Correspondence.)

P..... TAO IN N N NN

Kinston, N. C., June 3.—J. S. Wooten, a well known business man of Lenoir county, who has been indisposed for some time following a sudden attack of illness, is improving rapidly after an operation at the University Hospital in Baltimore, where he was taken for treatment. Confidence is now felt that Mr. Wooten, for whom much concern was felt, will entirely recover. Mr. Prentiss Wooten, of this city, a brother, was at Baltimore at the time of the operation.

The wholesale grocery business, which during recent years has become an important part of Kinston's commercial interests, was yesterday augmented by the opening of the firm of West & Claytor, Horace West and L. A. Claytor, well known business men, comprise the firm, which is located in South Kinston. There are now six wholesale grocery concerns here, with a total capitalization of several hundred thousand dollars, and they trade in fully a dozen counties.

N. J. Rouse, of this city, executor of the estate of the late Simeon Wooten, a wealthy man of LaGrange, has appointed C. P. Barrow manager of the big store there which is one of the principal items of the estate.

STATE PHARMACISTS

Annual Meeting of Association at Newbern Next Week

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., June 3.—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, June 11th, 12th and 13th, the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association meets in this city and extensive preparations have been made for the entertainment of the "pill makers." The major portion of the druggists' time will, of course, be taken up with business meeting and in the examination of applicants who desire to practice pharmacy but the visitors will have ample opportunity of seeing the sights of the historic town on the Neuse and a number of social events have been planned for the week. At the close of the meeting the visitors will be taken on board the revenue cutter Pamlico for a cruise down the Neuse river, probably going through the inland waterway canal to Morehead City.

RAN DOWN DEER.

Interesting Experience of Newbern Young Man in Swamp.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., June 3.—Running down and capturing a pair of fleet-footed deer is the remarkable feat performed last Saturday by Hugh Dudley, a Newbern young man, and several of his associates. Mr. Dudley is employed by the John L. Roper Company as a surveyor and has his headquarters at Corapeake, N. C. Last Saturday while engaged in surveying in the Dismal Swamp about 15 miles south of Suffolk, Va., Mr. Dudley saw tyo young deer on a ridge some distance away. More in jest than in earnest he suggested that they catch the animals. His companions readily acquiesced and the chase began. Any one who is acquainted with the variety of soil and the immense amount of undergrowth found in the Dismal Swamp can readily see what the pursuers were up against. However, they kept the chase up until the two deer were literally "all in" and succeeded in capturing them.

HUSBAND TESTIFIES FOR HIS WIFE

Relates Some of Her Former Difficulties, and How They Were Overcome.

Loray, N. C.—Mr. W. S. Poteet, of R. F. D. No. 1, this city, makes the following statements for publication: "My wife suffered from troubles common to all women, for about three years. She took one bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and was cured sound and well.

About three months ago, she was taken down again, and I went at once and got her another bottle of Cardui. She felt better very soon. By the time the bottle was used up she was well again.

We had a neighbor who was in the same condition as my wife, and we advised her to take Cardui, but she did not. Her medicine bill was $30.00 and she is not strong yet. Which was the best? Think of paying 30 to 1!

I will certainly speak a good word for this remedy, every chance I have. It is the greatest woman's remedy on earth."

Cardui has a record of more than 50 years' success as a medicine—a tonic—for weak, tired, worn-out women. Its wonderful success is due to the fact that it goes right to the spot that needs attention, and does the work that is required.

24TH ANNUAL CONVENTION

Wilmington Host to Meeting of King's Daughters and Sons—Two Business Sessions and Outing Yesterday.

Wilmington is host to the 24th annual convention of the North Carolina branch of King's Daughters and Sons, which assembled at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church yesterday morning and will continue in session through this evening. The visitors, about 50 from different parts of the State, were formally welcomed in a most cordial manner at the opening session. In the afternoon the visitors and local members were guests of Capt. J. W. Harper for an outing at Carolina Beach. Last night's session was held at the First Baptist church and was featured by several addresses and the rendition of an enjoyable musical programme.

At the meeting at St. Andrew's this morning officers will be elected and the next meeting place will be selected; at noon the local lodge of Elks will entertain at luncheon for the visitors, the convention coming to an end tonight with a session at the First Baptist church.

The morning session yesterday was opened with devotional exercises by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's. In the absence of the State president, Mrs. W. H. S. Burgwyn, of Raleigh, who was kept at home by feeble health, Miss Easdale Shaw, of Rockingham, State vice president, presided. The State secretary, Mrs. Richard Williams, of Greenville, being absent, Mrs. M. H. Russell, of Rockingham, acted as recording secretary.

In behalf of the city the visitors were welcomed by Mayor P. Q. Moore, who expressed his great appreciation of the work that the King's Daughters and Sons are doing, and the high honor that the people of Wilmington feel in having the privilege of entertaining the convention. He spoke for only a few minutes, but his remarks were most cordial and sincere. The convention heard him with the greatest interest. This was Mayor Moore's first welcoming address since he became Chief Executive of the city. He will have more of it to do before the Summer is over, as there are several more conventions to be held in Wilmington and on the beach.

Greetings from the circles in the city were brought by Mrs. C. J. Kelloway. "Our hearts and our homes bid you welcome," she said, "and we hope that our welcome may be typical of that greater welcome which our Saviour extends to all of us."

These words of welcome were responded to by Miss Jean Coltrane, of Concord, who, in speaking of Wilmington as a splendid commercial city, said: "To name her charms and advantages would take too long, and our pleasure in meeting here is too great, and our appreciation too deep to be expressed in mere words."

A happy feature of this session was the presentation of a beautiful banner by Mrs. C. J. Kelloway in behalf of the beloved State president, Mrs. Burgwyn. In words of generous praise of her work Mrs. George A. Rose, of Henderson, accepted the banner for the convention.

At this juncture Mrs. Clarence G. Burton, of Richmond, Va., State president of the Virginia Daughters, was introduced, and on motion was extended the privileges of the floor.

After the roll call of officers and delegates the announcement of committees was made as follows:

Executive Committee—Miss Easdale Shaw, Rockingham; ex-officio chairman; Mrs. G. A. Coggeshall, Oxford; Mrs. D. F. Cannon, Concord; Miss Alice G. Wilson, Chapel Hill; Mrs. William Latimer, Wilmington.

Chedentials Committee—Miss Jean Coltrane, Concord, chairman; Miss Lucianna Poisson, Mrs. Lewis Williams and Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, Wilmington.

Auditing Committee—Mrs. E. L. Prince, chairman; Mrs. O. H. Shoemaker and Mrs. W. B. Cooper, all of this city.

The report of the State secretary read by Mrs. Russell showed that there are 23 circles in the State, a decrease of one from last year. The total membership in the State is 722, a decrease of 66 from last report.

Telegrams of sympathy were sent to Mrs. Burgwyn and Mrs. Williams. The report of the State treasurer, Mrs. D. Y. Cooper, of Henderson, showed that the circles had spent much money in alleviating the needs of the poor.

Letters of greetings were read from the State secretaries of New Hampshire, Kentucky and Georgia. Reports from individual circles were then taken up. Among the cities represented are Chapel Hill, Concord, Greenville, Henderson, Oxford, Raleigh, Rockingham, Salisbury and Southport.

The last business of the morning session was the casting of an informal ballot for the election of State officers. It was then announced that a photographer was on hand, and all the delegates went out to the north side of the church where a group picture was made.

Luncheon was served in the church parlors by the ladies of the Hospital and Whatsoever circles, after which all the delegates went down the Cape Fear on the steamer Wilmington as guests of Capt. J. W. Harper, to spend several hours at Carolina Beach.

The session last night was held at the First Baptist church, opening with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, the pastor. A feature of this service was a vocal duet by Messrs. Greene Fenley and William B. Muse, and a violin solo by Mrs. Joseph Scott Mitchell. In the absence of the President her address was read by Miss Easdale Shaw. In the paper which Mrs. Burgwyn had prepared she called especial attention to the importance of the work of the Stonewall Jackson Training School at Concord, and asked that the Daughters provide means for erecting a chapel at this institution. She referred to the splendid historical record of the lower Cape Fear section and it should be the means of inspiring the delegates to greater things, she stated.

Mrs. Clarence G. Burton, of Richmond, Va., the guest of honor, made an inspiring and helpful address, her subject being, "The Personal Responsibility of a King's Daughter." First of all, she declared, must come the work of the church, then the Sunday School, the home and last a circle of the King's Daughters. In all public movements for the public good she must take a part. All should so live that when the end of life is come it will be well with the soul, she said.

Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure delivered a striking address, his subject being, "The King's Daughters Were Among Thy Honorable Women." He stated that he felt that he was at a great disadvantage in having to speak from the same platform from which such inspiring addresses had been delivered by the women who had preceded him. He called attention to the importance of a life of service, such as is the end and aim of the King's Daughters. It is only in this way that we can attain true happiness and success, he said.

The last address of the evening was by Mrs. M. H. Russell, of Rockingham, whose subject was "Highways and Hedges." She said that as we walk along the great highway of life we hear strange voices calling for help, but if we are true followers of the King they are not strange. In every city we see advertisements calling for recruits for the army, even in times of peace. Then why should not the King's followers do likewise, and go out into the highways and hedges seeking recruits for the Lord's service?

The chancel and pulpit of the church were beautifully decorated with smilax and palms producing a most pleasing effect.

Among the delegates who are attending the convention are Mrs. William St. George and Miss Newton, Southport; Mrs. A. E. Lentz, and Misses Jean Coltrane, Maud Brown and Belle Means, Concord; Mrs. John S. Hassell, Greenville; Mrs. D. Y. Cooper, Mrs. George A. Rose and Miss Belle Hicks, Henderson; Mrs. M. H. Russell, Misses Easdale Shaw and Mary Steele, Rockingham; Mrs. J. P. Wyatt and Mrs. A. E. Hamberry, Raleigh; Misses Margaret Carter and Mary Carroll, Salisbury. Mrs. Clarence G. Burton, of Richmond, Va., is a guest of honor.

The session this morning will convene at 9:30 o'clock and will be held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. At noon the Daughters will be entertained at a luncheon at the Elks' Temple, following which they will be taken to Wrightsville Beach, as guests of the Tidewater Power Company. The closing session of the convention will be held at the First Baptist church tonight.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Six Months for James Lowe, Convicted of Retailing—Appeals.

James Lowe, colored, who has the honor of being the first alleged tiger arrested under Chief Williams' administration, was convicted in the Recorder's court yesterday and given six months on the roads. L. Clayton Grant, Esq., appeared for him, and notice of appeal was given. Chief Williams assumed his new duties only a few hours before the arrest of Lowe was made and a quantity of whiskey seized.

Walter Horne, charged with violating the hitching ordinance, was released with a nol pros with leave, the officer making the arrest failing to sign the affidavit.

Richard Spicer, Eddie Bell and Preston Howe, three colored boys, who are charged with breaking into the house of Mr. A. G. Bowden, Fourth and Chesnut streets, Monday night, and ransacking it, carrying away clothing and other things, will be heard Thursday. Spicer was picked up early Monday night with a suit case of clothing, but it was 3 o'clock yesterday morning before the officers found Bell and Howe. The family of Mr. Bowden had moved to the sound and the house was unoccupied.

WOMAN ON COMMITTEE

Mecklenburg County Board of Education Takes Advanced Step

The Mecklenburg County Board of Education has taken advanced steps in the election of a woman as a school committeeman. The election was made under authority of an act of the last Legislature and it is believed that the election is the first under the new law. Mrs. W. B. Blythe, of Huntersville, was appointed to succeed Mr. J. W. Cross, who resigned as a member of the Huntersville school committee.

In noting the election of Mrs. Blythe The Chronicle comments: "This step is regarded as one of distinctive importance to the school w orld and shows Mecklenburg to be up-to-date in that she recognizes the right and the importance of women as an adviser and official in all matters that pertain to the school."

Committeemen in New Hanover county for the ensuing term are to be named at the July meeting of the New Hanover Board of Education and at that time a committee of ladies will likely appear before the body and urge the appointment of women on some of the committees.

STATE MASONS IN SESSION

Grand Chapter Completed Work Yesterday With Election of Officers—Grand Council and Knights Templar Today

The Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons, attended by four score delegates, opened the 65th annual convention yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the hall of Concord Chapter No. 1, Masonic Temple, and the business was handled so expeditously at the opening and at the 3 P. M. meeting that no night meeting was needed, and last evening at 8:30 all the visiting Masons were taken to Wrightsville Beach on a special car by the local entertainment committee.

The afternoon session was concluded by 5:30 o'clock. The convention was opened by Mr. John E. Cameron, of Kinston, M. E. Grand High Priest. One of the important items before the Grand Chapter was the election of officers, and this was completed yesterday afternoon and the officers installed. The new Grand High Priest is the Deputy Grand, Mr. John T. Alderman, of Henderson, and the other officers are: Albert S. Guerard, Asheville, Deputy Grand High Priest; Geo. S. With the Grand Chapter meeting over, the Grand Council Royal and Select Masters will assemble this morning at 9 o'clock in its 37th annual meeting. The Order of Anointed High Priesthood will be conferred.

Following this event, the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, will meet in the 33rd annual conclave in the Asylum of Plantagenet Commandery No. 1, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and this evening at 8:30 Plantagenet Commandery and Concord Chapter will be hosts to the visiting Masons at a banquet to be held on the Temple roof garden, if the weather is favorable, otherwise in the ball room of the Temple.

Following the banquet, the company will be entertained with special films at the Bijou Theatre.

Tomorrow morning the visitors will be taken down the Cape Fear on the steamer Wilmington, on an excursion given by the Plantagenet Commandery and Concord Chapter, and tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock the Knights will hold their second session and tomorrow night their concluding session, which will bring to a close a very pleasant Masonic meeting.

A number of the delegates have brought their wives and they are all enjoying their stay in the city and their visits to the beach. The local committees are leaving nothing undone to make their visit to the city pleasant. Mr. Leo A. Knapp is chairman of the joint committees; Mr. J. T. Munds has the finance committee; Mr. C. C. Brown is chairman of the reception committee, with Mr. Carl F. Strunck; Mr. B. H. Stephens is chairman of the committee on entertainment and programme, with Mr Cuthbert Martin; and Mr. S. R. Keyes is chairman of the committee on printing.

MARINE HOSPITAL CHANGES

Dr. George Wheeler Reports for Duty as Chief Assistant

Dr. George Wheeler, acting assistant surgeon, U. S. Public Health Service, has reported at the Marine Hospital for duty, relieving Acting Assistant Surgeon J. C. Wessell, who has been in charge of the hospital for several months. Dr. Wheeler will have charge of the medical office in the customs house and will be Dr. Stiles' chief assistant at the hospital.

It will be recalled that he was stationed here last Summer as assistant in the laboratory work.

A change of office hours has just been announced. The downtown office will be open for the treatment of sailors from 8:10 to 9:10 A. M. There will also be physicians at the hospital available to the sailors for regular medical service, from 8 A. M. until 10 P. M., and in case of emergency, at any hour, day or night.

Within a week, three additional medical assistants are expected but their names are not yet announced. When asked yesterday relative to the beginning of the research work which he will carry on in this city and county for the next two years, along the lines already indicated in The Star, Dr. Stiles said that the work would begin in a few days, as soon as the staff is complete and preliminary preparations for the work are finished.

MORE SUBURBAN CARS

Tidewater Power Company Will Place Three More in Service.

The Tidewater Power Company will shortly put three more suburban cars in commission, in expectancy of largely increased traffic between the city and Wrightsville Beach this Smummer, making the total equipment 21 cars. The cars are built in the company's own shops, with the exception of the motors and trucks. Six other cars already in operation were built in the shops. They are of modern type and seat 68 people. Several months' time is required to turn out such a car, and this being the case, the company began the construction of the new equipment some time ago to have it ready for the 1913 season.

IN COUNCIL THIS MORNING

Number of Interesting and Important Matters Coming Up

This morning's session of Council will bring out discussion of a number of problems of interest. Councilman Wood will lay before Council the idea of installing a new pure water apparatus and by such machinery, utilize the artesian water from the city's deep well. He will also bring up his flat rate for water. Councilman Jones will present the proposition of selling the city property at Sixth and Castle streets and using the money to build a modern fire and market house at Fifth and Castle. The question of how the incinerator shall be paid for with reference to the county's portion of the cost will also come up, and it will be suggested that the county be relieved of paying one-fifth cost of the site of the plant, paying only one-fifth of the cost of erection and one-fifth of maintenance.

Report will be made to the Council of the $200,000 loan negotiated in Richmond a few days ago by Councilman Chadwick, of the Department of Finance and Accounts. Councilman Wood, it is understood, will ask some questions as to the necessity for borrowing and paying interest on more money than appears will be needed for some months. He will also ask for a statement for the information of the public as to where it is proposed to spend the $95,000 or $100,000 of the loan it is planned to draw from the Richmond bank at the present time.

Councilman W. F. Jones, in charge of the Department of Public Safety, stated yesterday that the automobile law would be rigidly enforced hereafter as to proper display of numbers by day and lights by night and as to speed. The law, he said, requires that the registered number of the machine shall be displayed on both the front and rear of the car. At night the cars must have a red light in the rear and two white lights in front. It is unlawful for a person to drive a car without license and licenses cannot be granted to a person under 16 years old. The speed law also is to be rigidly enforced. Councilman Jones desires that all automobile owners and drivers take notice that they must obey the law.

WILLIAMS TO RECORDER

Negro Who Used a Razor Bound Over for Trial Today

Sandy Williams was bound over to the Recorder's court yesterday by Justice Harriss in the sum of $200, which he could not put up and went to jail. Williams cut Calvin Hardy, it is charged, with a razor, at Winter Park Saturday night. Hardy was able to be at the trial but his arm is said to be in a bad way, so bad that he may have more trouble with the wound. The slash is about six inches long, across the heavy muscle near the shoulder. Williams' case will come up this morning in the Recorder's court.

OPENED BALLOT BOXES

Alleged Irregularity in Bond Elections in Fourth Ward

The question has been raised that there was some irregularity in the Fourth Ward in the recent bond issue elections in that the two ballot boxes, one for schools and the other for roads were opened and the count of the ballots begun over an hour before the polls closed. The polls did not close until 7:17 P. M. and it is claimed that the election officers began the count of the ballots at 6 o'clock.

Without looking into the matter fully, County Attorney Marsden Bellamy, when approached for an opinion by a member of the County Board of Elections, stated that in the absence of any element of fraud he did not think the validity of the bonds would be affected on account of the action of the election officers in opening the ballot boxes before the polls closed. The school bonds had a margin of 113 and it is said that even if the entire ward is thrown out the school bonds would not be affected. If the ward should be thrown out the road bonds would be affected, however, because the issue carried by a margin of only 30 votes, and without the Fourth Ward would lack 19 votes of carrying. Though, as stated, it is believed that should the matter be carried to the courts, and it will not be unless the bond buyers raise the point, that the decision would be that the validity of the bonds are not affected. The result of the election has been declared by the County Commissionrs, as provided in the act authorizing the road bond election, and the burden would be on the contestant to show any irregularity in the election in case of a contest.

May Go to Carolina Beach.

While no vote has yet been taken, the matter having been postponed from Monday night until the next regular meeting Monday night, June 16th, it is very likely that the annual encampment of the Boys' Brigade this year will be held at Carolina Beach. For several years the encampment has been held at Southport, where the boys have always had a most pleasant time, but this year a majority of the members seem to be in favor of the beach. The activities of the Boys' Brigade have been temporarily suspended, beginning with last Monday, while carpenters, painter and other workmen are busy making repairs and improvements on the armory following the fire of a few weeks ago. The work of the institution will be resumed in about ten days.

BIRTH OF JEFFERSON DAVIS CELEBRATED BY DAUGHTERS

Cape Fear Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, held very pretty and entertaining commemorative exercises yesterday, the occasion being the 105th anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederate States of America, and one of the great statesmen of the Republic. The programme was given in the W. L. I. armory, where lovely decorations in flowers and red and white were arranged for the event. Members of the chapter attended, bringing each a guest. The meeting was called to order by the president of the chapter and the audience sang, "The Old North State." Readings were given by Mrs. W. M. Creasy and Mrs. Andrew J. Howell. Mrs. J. W. Yates sang a solo and a piano solo was given by Miss Till. Mrs. Meares Harriss gave a violin selection. Mrs. Longfellow, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Muse and Mrs. Smith in a quartette, closed the exercises.

Mrs. John Newland Maffitt, of New York, member of the New York Chapter, U. D. C., made a short talk, giving glimpses of the work being done by the Daughters in the Metropolis. Cream and cake were served, and there was a birthday cake, presumably holding 105 candles, in honor of the birth of Davis.

The entire programme was very greatly enjoyed by all. Mrs. Creasy's reading, subject, "Jefferson Davis, the Man," is of general interest, and is as follows:

"Time, with its softening touch, not only heals the wounds of bitterness, but also brings into clear relief many things that the haze of deep feeling renders obscure at the moment of frenzied strife.

"Thus, men whom their fellows exalted and others whom they placed in inferior relations, have, when viewed through the glasses of experience, often changed places. Some one has said, 'No man can be considered truly great until 50 years have rolled over his grave.'

"Let us consider our chieftain, Jefferson Davis. Although a lover and faithful servant of the Union, he, as an ardent States' right man, believed the South should be allowed to solve its problems in its own way, and if it could not be done peacefully in the Union, then the only proper course lay in secession. When his State withdrew, he as a faithful son, at great personal sacrifice, made her cause his own, joined his fellow citizens in State service, and followed the course due to that relation. On the Confederation, he was selected as leader, the President. Now what of this choice? A brave man, abhoring cowardice in any form, yet tender and gentle, one whom children instinctively trusted. Even in the midst of great suffering, such as few men are called upon to endure, he finds thought for a grateful message to a young girl who, he learns is preparing his meals. A great sufferer from neuralgia, by which the sight of one of his eyes was destroyed, yet, by exercise of his remarkable will power he was always at his post when duty called.

"Mr. Davis had an unusually active brain, 'all things were as grist to his mill;' hence, his information on all subjects was that of the specialist rather than of the laymen. With a physician, he could converse familiarly on the adulteration of quinine and other drugs; he was equally at home on the subjects of optics or acoustics. The muse often enticed him, as is evidenced by his love of and familiarity with Milton and Shakespeare. He was an engineer of undoubted ability and during his term as Secretary of War he used that knowledge to better the condition of the men in the forts. As a scientist, he was well informed on the flora and fauna of the country; but as a student of men he shone greatest. Time has shown his solution of the negro question was best. Mr. Davis was faithful and loyal to his friends, always ready to stand or fall with them. His love for the South and 'My people' (as he called them) was ingrained. He believed he was selected to the chief office of the Confederacy not only because he was a Southerner of birth, education, war experience, and training in National affairs, but principally because, after the deaths of Calhoun and General Quitman, he became the chief exponent of the principles of State sovereignty which the South cherished, and of which the Fathers of the Country had been founders. Thos. Jefferson the inspired prophet, and they the eloquent apostles.' During his imprisonment and always, he remembered his duty to his faith, his countrymen, and the cause he represented, not the less sacred because covered with the pall of military disaster. His rebellion against shackles was not so much for his own honor and his horror of the degradation, as for the honor of America. Well he knew how the world would ring with the disgrace that America was ignorant of the respect due a fallen foe.

"His sole reading during his confinement was the Bible and prayer-book. Dr. Craven, his attending physician at Fortress Monroe, says, 'He made no affectation of devoutness or asceticism but was sincerely religious, and when speaking on religious subjects there was a vital earnestness in his discourse; a clear almost passionate grasp in his faith, which no sophistry of infidel could discredit.' Dr. Craven also said 'Mr. Davis is remarkable for the kindliness of his nature and fidelity to friends; of none of God's creatures does he seem to wish to speak unkindly.'

"Such was our chieftain and he emerges from Time's crucible a great man, one of the world's leaders. A man who in the conduct of his life always adhered strictly to the call of duty, no matter what his suffering or private inclinations, yet, who, by partisan malice on the one side and disappointed hopes on the other, was so abused, insulted, and condemned at the close of the great struggle between the North and South that one might truly say he passed through Gethsemane and suffered Calvary. Now with happy eyes we see fame according him his crown, and as time passes the laurels will gleam brighter with the unfading greenness of immorality. Soon all the world will unite with us in reverencing Jefferson Davis, in God's providence the only President of the Confederacy."

—The sound of the hammer continues to be heard in police headquarters where the house force is putting down a new floor and building new offices. The officers got a cart load of clothing, etc., taken from the residence by the negroes. Alonzo Bostian and John Hoffman, two other negroes, were arrested last night for receiving some of the stuff.

—The police yesterday notified merchants on Front street who have in front of their stores metal pipe awning frames of the old-fashioned variety that they must remove the same. The idea is to have these awnings replaced with the more attractive and up-to-date kind. It is said that some of the merchants did not take kindly to the suggestion from the police department and intimated their purpose to fight the enforcement of the ordinance unless all obstructions on the sidewalks of whatsoever kind are removed.

..Theatrical..

The perfect ventilation, the good music and the general attractiveness of the place would be sufficient to commend the Grand Theatre to the amusement loving public of Wilmington, but when it is added that just now are being shown some of the finest pictures ever offered at a moving picture play house and that the price is only five cents, afternoon or night, it is strange to see how anybody can resist this appear to a little recreation and pleasure.

Today there is going to be a great Vitagraph comedy, "Cutey and the Chorus Girls," dealing with the theatre and a smart young Johnnie while there will be a strong Lubin dramatic, "For His Child's Sake." It is a story of Northern Canada and the wilds of the forest country. There is a thrilling rescue of a child and all told the picture will prove one of the best ever witnessed. In addition to these two there is another and perhaps still another. Plenty of amusement and a delightful place to spend an afternoon or evening. That in brief is the Grand Theatre today.

The Merry Bijou.

The popular Bijou is certainly going the joy-riding pace these days. Yesterday was a banner day in its history and today will be a glorious repeater, while in addition to the big new show there will be plenty of solid comfort, not only consisting of free and hygienic ventilation by a perfect system, but of cool breezes, direct from many whirling electric fans, and the tiny price of almission, 5 cents, remains. There is a great Selig dramatic, "A Little Hero", leading today's bill, and it will thrill every fibre in the human system. The star of the film is one of the cleverest juvenile actors on the stage. Edison also has a big dramatic, "A Splendid Scapegoat," on today's programme, and it deals with a most fascinating theme—moonshining in the Kentucky mountains. A swell Pathe weekly is also one of today's features, showing scenes of current events, including many incidents in the South, with a comedy scene at the end.

A great educational film also stars in "Buddha", which shows the colossal work of art made by the Japanese in 1252 A. D.

LOST STRENGTH IN COTTON SUBSTANTIAL RALLY IN WHEAT THE STOCK MARKET SITUATION

The Opening Steady—Close Was Barely Steady at a Net Decline of From Nine to Ten Points

New York, June 3.—The cotton market lost practically all it had gained as a result of yesterday's bullish condition report, and closed barely steady, at a net decline of from 9 to 10 points.

The opening was steady, at unchanged prices to an advance of 3 points, on a renewal of yesterday's covering movement, and in response to relatively steady cables.

Active months sold 3 to 5 points net higher right after the call, but there seemed to be no aggressive demand and the market soon turned easier. Weather advices were very favorable and while Liverpool was a buyer of new crop months here, houses with foreign connections were sellers of July. The renewal of old crop liquidation helped to strengthen bearish sentiment and numerous favorable crop advices from the South were accompanied by a considerable volume of selling orders, through houses with Southern connections. After showing a net loss of 4 or 5 points, the market rallied 2 or 3 points on the weekly report of the Weather Bureau, complaining of dry weather in parts of South Carolina, Oklahoma and Missouri, but private crop advices continued generally favorable and after a moderate flurry of covering, prices again eased off.

The lowest point of the day was reached in the late trading, when January contracts sold through the 11-cent level and new crop positions generally were within 4 or 5 points of the low level reached before the publication of the government report on Monday morning. Business was at no time very active, and the market was dull during the middle of the day, as though traders were hesitating between the bullish influence of the June condition figures and the almost unanimously favorable reports received as to the progress of the crop since the Government statement was made up. Private cables reported continental covering in Liverpool and some of the buying here was attributed to realizing of shorts.

Spot cotton, quiet; 10 points lower; middling uplands, 11.70; sales, none.

FLORIDA LAND VALUES

Wilson County Man Tells of Wealth in Land of Flowers

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., June 3.—Mr. John H. Pitt, formerly a resident of this section but now a citizen of Jacksonville, Fla. is spending some time in renewing acquaintances. Mr. Pitt tells of the rapid growth in land values in Florida and one instance is interesting. He purchased 75,000 acres of Florida land at prices ranging from 60 cents to $3.50 an acre. From 35,000 acres of this land he sold timber amounting to $225,000 and in addition received $75,000 for a half interest in the turpentine privilege. Mr. Pitt has been successful in handling real estate and turpentine. He is the guest of his brother, Mr. R. E. Pitt, of Edgecombe county.

The Government's Weekly Weather Report Puts Check on Improving Tendency—Renewed Liquidation of Stocks

New York, June 3.—Renewed liquidation of dividend paying stocks, some of which were under heavy pressure earlier in the year, and the unfavorable tenor of the government's weekly weather report, put a check on the improving tendency, displayed by the market during the early trading today.

Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific, the weak features of the preceding day, moved up strongly at the outset and the whole list presented a better front. In the last hour of the day the market worked downward again, with active selling in the final hour, which carried prices down around yesterday's low point.

The weather report showing a serious deficiency in precipitation over certain sections of the South and Middle West, and, consequently, unfavorable crop conditions, was one of the main factors in the increased heaviness of the market late in the day. The downward tendency was helped by liquidation in such dividend-paying stocks as Northern Pacific, which dropped 3 points to the lowest prices since the 1907 panic; Smelting, which lost 3 points; Illinois, Central and Baltimore and Ohio. The decline in active shares continued and about 30 stocks of all kinds touched new low records for the year.

European trading again figured largely in the course of the market. London, which sold stocks here heavily yesterday, bought Canadian Pacific and Union Pacific today. Later, the foreign traders reversed their position, and arbitrage brokers said there was a balance of sales for foreign account at the end of the day.

Weakness of Smelting, which was unusually active, was associated with various rumors purporting to forecast new prosecutions by the government under the Sherman law. The heaviness of the London Copper market was another unfavorable influence. Demand for metal in domestic markets is said to be small.

Bonds were under pressure. The total sales, par value, $2,000,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks were 333,900 shares.

WILSON'S LOBBY CHARGE JUSTIFIED

Means Committee were incorporated in the tariff.

Senator Hughes, of New Jersey, the first majority member of the Finance Committee, to take the stand testified he was not financially or professionally interested in the bill. "I have sought to influence members of the Finance Committee as to rates, however," said the Senator with a smile. Regarding his callers, he said: "Making due allowance for the interest in their business I should say no improper attempts were made to influence me."

Senator Hughes said judging by his personal experience he thought the tariff visitors now her were much greater in numbers than four years ago. "This year I have had a hard time," said he. "Four years ago I was left severely alone. I made a short speech and went to the ball game then."

Knew of No Lobby

Senator Johnston, of Alabama, testified he owned a farm, but was not otherwise financially interested in the tariff bill. He said he disposed of advertisements that come to him so quickly that he did not know by which side they were sent. He knew of no lobby.

Senator Jones, of Washington, also qualified as a farmer by stating he owned 13 acres. He said he had no knowledge of a lobby.

Senator Kenyon testified he, too, had a farm in Iowa. He stated he had received several letters about the tariff, one regarding dog biscuits. "I believe a lobby exists here and the President knew just what he was talking about," declared the Senator.

Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, testified that he was interested in the publication of a weekly paper owning most of the stock but said he did not believe it would be affected by any item in th tariff bill. Four years ago, Senator LaFollette said, he was interviewed in regard to hides, the interviewer informing him that he already had engaged a page or two of advertisement in his magazine. "I told him if he did not hurry to the telegraph office I would beat him in ordering a cancellation of his advertisement." declared the Senator.

Replying to questions about persons being maintained in Washington to look after legislation Senator LaFollette said the American Federation of Labor and the Seamen's Union kept men here. Under my definition of the term that is lobbying," he declared.

Indian interests, he said, kept men here, his understanding being that there was an organization of lawyers in Washington that worked up claims.

"A legislator should stand in the same attitude as a judge," declared Senator LaFollette. "I would make it an offense to speak privately to a Senator about public business."

Senator James, of Kentucky, a majority member of the Finance Committee, said he had seen swarms of tariff men in Washington but he was not certain whether they were lobbyists. A lobbyist he described as one who "hung around and nudged up to say something to you about legislation every chance he got."

Answering Senator Reed he said there was no doubt that determined effort was being made to keep up the tariff rates.

Senator Martin, of Virginia, another farm owner, testified that if an obnoxious lobby existed in Washington now or in the past it had never hovered over him.

Mr. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, said he would change the law so that the men would not be made rich by statutes and would no longer have a special interest in legislation.

Senator Overman called attention to statements that labor organizations had representatives here. Senator Hitchcock described them as lobbyists, but not in a reprehensible sense.

ARRAIGNED FOR MURDER

Representative Hugh Long Charged With Killing Pikens N. Gunter

Aiken, S. C., June 3.—The trial of Hugh Long, representative from Aiken county, in the South Carolina Legislature, on a charge of murdering Pickens N. Gunter, a banker of Wagener, last Fall, was begun in general sessions here today. Long formerly was mayor of Wagener, and also was editor of a newspaper in that town.

The killing of Gunter occurred on the streets of Wagener following a heated political campaign in which Long was elected to the Legislature. During Long's absence from Wagener his newspaper office had been broken open and partly burned. After he shot Gunter, Long barricaded his office, and with a rifle stood off a crowd of angry citizens until he was rescued by the sheriff. The State rested after the examination of a large number of witnesses who detailed the story of the fight and th trouble that followed.

Evidence was introduced by the State in the effort to show that Long fired two shots, the second one after Hays Gunter had separated Long and Pickens Gunter, who was killed. The fight started, according to witnesses, when Gunter approached Long and knocked him down, then held him down until Hays Gunter came from his store and separated them. That Pickens Gunter was unarmed was testified.

Witnesses for the defense will be called tomorrow. More than 100 have been subpoenaed. It is said self-defense will be Long's plea and that his attorneys will endeavor to show that he was threatened with death, if he returned to Wagener, and that Gunter was one of the leaders of the opposition to Long's candidacy for the Legislature.

FIGHTING AT MATAMORAS

Town Practically in Hands of Revolutionists After Severe Battle

Brownsville, Texas, June 3.—While a handful of men were still offering dogged resistance to the rebel troops of General Lucio Blanco, Constitutionalist commander-in-chief of the State of Tamaulipas, at 10 o'clock tonight, Matamoras, Mexico, is practically in the hands of the revolutionists after a battle waged without interruption since 10:30 o'clock this morning. Colonel Eschasereta with 100 volunteers remnants of the Federal garrison is making the last stand from the roof of the cathedral and theatre in Hidala Plaza, but their subjection before morning is regarded as certain. Early in the night flames from burning buildings in several sections of the battle-scarred city lighted the sky for miles around and for time it was feared that the town was doomed. At 10 o'clock, however, the fire scenes had descreased.

The toll of death on both sides has been heavy. Major Estaban Ramos, Federal commander, was wounded. His condition is reported critical. Private Davis, of the United States caragan, mayor of Matamoras, was shot while patrolling the border on the American side of the Rio Grande. Rumors are persistent that Migul Barragan, mayor of Matamoras, fas shot and killed today. Authentic estimates of the dead and wounded will not be available before tomorrow. One report by refugees was that between 100 and 300 of the combatants had been killed and double that number wounded.

The United States consulate where Consul J. H. Johnson and his staff remained during the fighting was in the direct line of fire the greater part of the day, but it is stated that none of those in the building have been wounded.

One hundred and twelve of the Federal troops crossed to Brownsville this afternoon and surrendered to the United States Military authorities.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

Unexpectedly High Scores Made in Southern Association

Montgomery, Ala., June 3.—Qualifying scores made today by the 64 contestants in the championship flights at the tournament of the Southern Golf Association here were higher than expected although the afternoon play of L. Jacoby, of Dallas, Texas, broke the course record, established by a professional Sunday. The 64 qualifying for the championship play made the mark of 87 while those entitled to participation in the second division made marks of 91.

The day was a hard one on the golfers and weather conditions are given as the cause of the high qualifying scores, higher than the actual condition of the course had promised.

The playing of Jacoby in the afternoon was a veritable revelation to the golfers. The record established by Hall, professional, of Birmingham, last Sunday, was 70, but Jacoby turned in a card of 68 this afternoon which caused general rejoicing and enthusiasm. Jacoby is looked upon as the most dangerous competitor for the title with Nelson Whitney, of New Orleans, the present title holder. In making his record Jacoby was playing a foursome with Crawford, of Birmingham, and the Messrs. Munger, of Dallas.

The lowest qualifying score was turned in by R. G. Bush, of New Orleans, 75, while Jacoby, Whitney, John Bramme, local, and M. J. Condon qualified at 76. Ellis Knowles, at one time considered a dangerous contender for the championship, turned in a card of 82.

In team play for the day Audubon Club of New Orleans, composed of R. G. Brook, Whitney, J. B. Bush and R. H. Brooke, won first with a total of 310. Dallas, Texas, composed of Alredge, Jacoby and Messrs. Munger, came second and Montgomery and Atlanta tied for third with a score of 328 each. The Audubon Club's play had the advantage of Whitney's work.

FORTY TRESTLES DESTROYED

Federal Mutineers Work Havoc With Railroad Property

El Paso, Texas, June 3.—Forty trestles on the Mexican Northern Railway south of Medinos between Juarez and Casas Grandes, were destroyed today by Maximo Costillo and his band of 150 Federal mutineers on the refusal of the American officials on the English and Canadian owned line to pay $10,000 for immunity from damage. Costillo and his band are reported headed for the Mexican Central Railway.

Federal officers at Juarez today issued an order requesting passports of all interior-bound travelers.

SELECTED AS GOVERNOR.

Editor of the Commoner Will Rule the Panama Zone.

Washington, June 3.—Richard L. Metcalf, of Lincoln, Neb., editor of The Commoner, was today selected by President Wilson to be Civil Governor of the Panama Zone. This was announced by Secretary Garrison after he and Secretaries Bryan and Daniels had conferred with the President.

Although Mr. Metcalf was first recommended by Secretary Bryan, Secretary Daniels and Secretary Garrison joined in urging the appointment.

EFFICIENCY DEMONSTRATED.

School Girls Show Their Ability at Housecleaning.

Washington, June 3.—A class of sixth grade school girls today showed Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President, how well they have learned to clean house and how much they have learned of domestic science. The President's wife and Mrs. Archibald Hopkins, both of whom are taking a keen interest in the domestic courses in the public schools here, visited one of the schools to see a class actually at work.

BILL INTRODUCED.

Would Allow Foreign Vessels to Participate in Coastwise Trade.

Washington, June 3.—A bill to extend to foreign vessels the right to participate in American coastwise trade through the Panama canal, was introduced today by Representative Steenerson, of Minnesota. The preamble of the bill sets forth that restricting the coastwise trade to American vessels "fosters monopolistic control of trade" by combination of American vessels.

NINETY VACANCIES.

A Dearth of Cadets at West Point Military Academy.

Washington, June 3.—There are 90 vacancies in the incoming class of cadets at the Military Academy, at West Point occasioned by the failure of candidates previously examined. Secretary Garrison has directed that an extra examination be held at designated army posts on July 1st, for admission to the Military Academy August 1st.

Germany's exports in February this year totaled $211,945,000 against $173,330,000 in 1912.

FINALS AT TRINITY.

Baccalaureate Sermon in Craven Memorial Hall Striking Feature.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., June 3.—The baccalaureate sermon was preached to the graduates of Trinity College in the Craven Memorial Hall by the Rev. George P. Eckman, of New York City. A select choir, composed of the best voices of the city, rendered music appropriate for the occasion.

Dr. Eckman took his text from Paul's first letter to the Corinthians, the passage beginning with the 19th verse which reads: "For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent." From every standpoint the sermon of Dr. Eckman was a strong one and one especially appropriate for the occasion upon which it was delivered. One of the largest audiences ever seated in the Memorial Hall heard the sermon.

Dr. Eckman begged that the audience, and especially the members of the graduating class, excuse him if he preached to them just as if they were ordinary persons instead of talking in a deep philosophical and theological strain.

Budapest, June 3.—The Hungarian cabinet, of which Dr. Lodislaus Von Lukacs is premier, has decided to resign. This determination is due to the acquittal of deputy Desacs in a libel suit brought against him by the premier whom M. Desacs accused of corruption.

The Veiled Prophet

MELEAN

CLAIRVOYANT AND PSYHSIC PALMIST

STRANGE POWERS

I was born with a remarkable power—a power not meant to gratify the idle curious, but to direct, advise and help those who are in trouble and suspense concerning the every day affairs of life.

MY WORK SPEAKS FOR ITSELF

While I have the endorsements of hundreds of the most noted men and women of America, I deem them of little value, since I stand alone upon the merits of my work. Any person who can believe their own eyes and ears cannot help but know that my work is of the highest order of genuine clairvoyance.

If you have trouble or difficulties of any kind, come to me and have a quiet chat, confidentially. I will tell you what can be done. I assist you in all walks of life. Dont be despondent, worry or feel bad when you only have to call.

Now, as a business adviser, I stand pre-eminent. I will tell you more about your own business than you know yourself. If you are not doing well, and want to do better, call.

If, at the end of the year, you are no better off than when it started, there is a cause for that. You don't want to trouble yourself in old age, and did not save anything, or could not. See me now, to prevent that horrible poverty.

You don't want to be single. Happy marriage and a pleasant home is what you want. I arrange that for you speedily.

Have you domestic difficulties? Is your wife, husband or sweetheart untrue? Do others share the love that rightfully belongs to you? If so, don't hesitate. Call quick, before too late.

Are you seeking separation, divorce, or have you other legal troubles, or want to get advice on the subject? I am the person to consult.

If you speculate or invest, I can lead you to prosperity.

Have you bad luck or an evil influence over you? I remove that at once.

I advise you as to your future welfare, tell you what to do and what not to do. Many of my clients have gained fame and wealth through my guidance.

DAVID'S

IT'S STRANGE, WHEN ONE KNOWS THE FACTS

that so many young men, who want snap and style in their clothes, and who appreciate the economy of quality, cling to the grandfatherly idea of made-to-measure clothes.

Clothes-making has advanced far beyond that stage; ready clothes like are better than the average made-to-measure; at $25, for example, you'll find these suits, with fabrics, tailoring, style, and fit such as your made-to-measure at fifty per cent. higher price doesn't equal. As for the very cheap "made-to-measure," it's not to be compared.
